Foreword

August, 1964 sees the re-opening of Kecoughtan High School, this time with three classes—sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Orientation in the auditorium for sophomores and transfer students starts the year's assemblies for the fall semester.

As soon as the students settle in their home-rooms and adjust to their new schedules, activities start and extra-curricular organizations begin to recruit members for another active year. Throughout this book you will see the Warrior delegation working constantly to improve the school and to promote a spirit of pride in service.

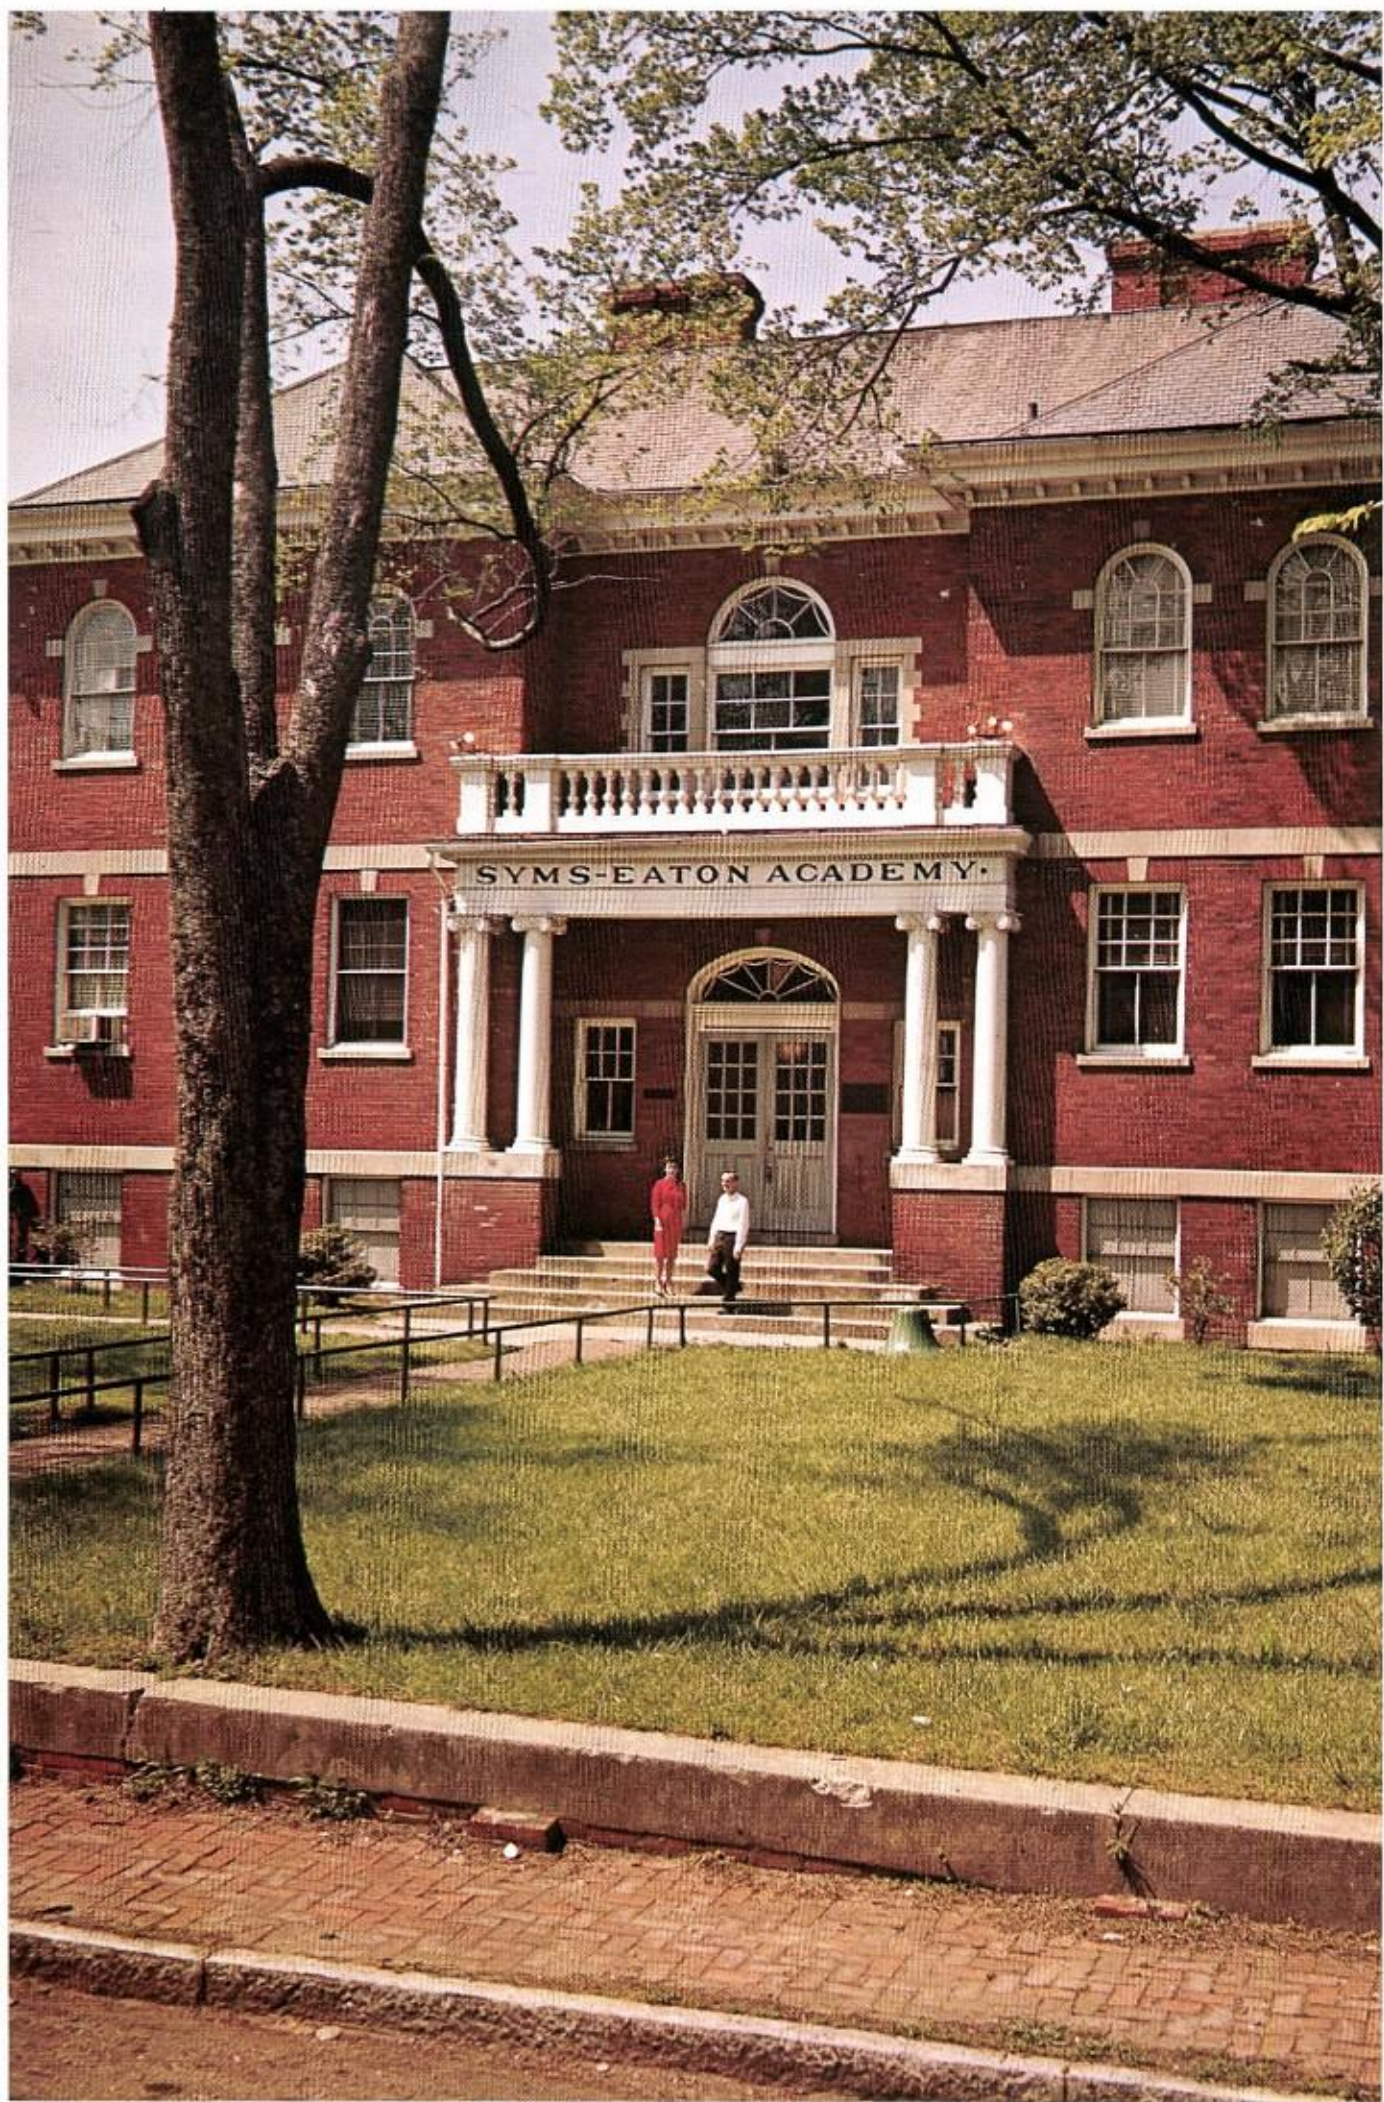

We submit this record to display the abilities, goals, and achievements to which everyone contributed during the unforgettable year of 1964-1965.

The spotlight falls on this year's Senior Class, but without the cooperation of the Juniors and Sophomores, the traditions and memories could not have been formed.

SCA President Sam Zeldner addresses the student body preceding the campaign speeches for next year's SCA officers.

Faculty and Administration

A vital part of the image of a school is its faculty. From a faculty and administrative staff of seventy to an organization of eighty-one is definitely an increase. This growth occurred because Kecoughtan High School had for the school year of 1964-1965 a student body representing three classes: sophomores, juniors, and seniors. The student increase amounted to five hundred seventy-seven, mainly sophomores.

Growth was evident in each department of the curriculum this year. The English department increased from nine faculty members to sixteen. Humanities, a class for advanced seniors, was presented for the first time at Kecoughtan. Calculus and honors math were added to the math department, which increased from five faculty members to eight.

Vocational office training and recording keeping were two new courses offered in the business department. The faculty membership of this department increased from five to eight. The science department was enlarged by the introduction of physics and advanced biology. Economics, personal finance, international relations, and government were offered in the social studies department. With the addition of these courses, two new methods of teaching were tried. Team teaching and student teaching were innovations this year in the English and the social studies departments.

Participation in extracurricular activities such as sponsoring clubs, coaching athletic teams, and chaperoning school dances, has given the faculty opportunities to promote school spirit throughout Kecoughtan.

As you glance through the following pages, notice those familiar faces who worked with you for your benefit. These individuals were dedicated in their efforts to provide Kecoughtan students with greater opportunities for practical and meaningful education.

School Board

With the guidance of Mr. C. Alton Lindsay, Superintendent of Schools, the Hampton School Board directs and supervises all the schools of the Hampton system. The high educational standards set by the School Board are the result of the Board's interest in providing quality education.

Decisions on the employment of teachers, administrative problems, salary questions, the school calendar, and student conduct are made by the School Board and Mr. Lindsay. Ever-present is the question of providing sufficient classrooms for a constantly growing population. Mr. Lindsay and the School Board face this problem yearly and work unceasingly to seek solutions to it. Possible new school sites, new plans and contracts for school construction, and architects' drawings are studied and approved by them.

Dedication and service to the community are the goals and aims of Mr. Lindsay and the School Board.

Principal

Mr. Edward R. Szetela
B.A., University of Massachusetts,
M.A., Cornell University,
M.Ed., William and Mary

As the administrative head of a relatively new school, Mr. Edward Szetela is kept busy. He represents the school at P.T.A. meetings, educational conferences, and other related groups. Addressing civic organizations and the student body calls for Mr. Szetela to be prepared with data and information at all times. Faculty meetings and school assemblies present other opportunities for Mr. Szetela to become better acquainted with his co-workers and students.

The organizational efforts which are necessary to establish a new school have been an additional burden for him. No amount of praise would be too great for the monumental tasks Mr. Szetela performs so efficiently.

Mr. Szetela is assisted by Mrs. Cook in the handling of administrative problems.

Assistant Principals

Mr. Henry C. Bowers is the assistant principal and dean of boys. In these roles he directs many administrative programs. In the absence of Mr. Szetela, he assumes the responsibilities of principal. Administrative tasks involve such complex problems as the selling of student insurance and the supervision of the federal survey program.

As dean of boys, he is responsible for the discipline of the boys, and the issuing of excuses for tardiness and absenteeism.

As part of his extracurricular activities, he sponsors the varsity basketball team.

Students who know Mr. Bowers as a coach, dean, or assistant principal, respect and admire him for so very capably fulfilling his responsibilities.

Mrs. Eylese M. Latham holds the title of dean of girls. She has the responsibility of counseling and guiding those girls who have personal problems. Her daily routine includes the checking of tardies and absentees.

In addition to her daily routine, she is engaged in many of the extracurricular activities of the senior class. As the sponsor of the senior class, she co-ordinates such functions as the senior prom, college night, class night, and baccalaureate. Under her supervision, these activities run smoothly and efficiently.

Both the students and the faculty are grateful to Mrs. Latham for the counseling and guidance services, and the assistance in extracurricular activities she gives to Kecoughtan High School.

Guidance

The Guidance Counselors are an important part of Kecoughtan's administrative personnel. In our guidance department each class has its own individual counselor. Mrs. Moore Counsels the seniors, Mrs. Ennis the juniors, and Mr. Kilbourne the sophomores. These counselors work with the students to provide them with schedules suited to their vocational abilities and aspirations.

When the sophomores enter high school, the guidance counselors advise them on the subjects which would be most profitable to them during the following years.

Many seniors as well as juniors find it convenient to get information from their counselors about their credits, and the colleges they plan to attend. A record of all the credits each student earns is kept by the guidance counselors so they can provide such information about credits.

Direction of the many testing programs is yet another service performed by the Guidance Office. These programs include college boards and scholarship eligibility examinations.

The careful and helpful planning of the guidance counselors make high school years valuable to the student and his future.

Mrs. Ennis, Mr. Kilbourne, and Mrs. Moore discuss various testing programs.

Sharon Cole always finds Mr. Kilbourne ready to answer questions.

Administrative Assistants

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Cook
Secretary to Principal,
Registrar
Co-Sponsor: Senior Class

Mrs. Anita S. McKinley
Secretary, Bookkeeper

Never a spare moment for Mrs. McKinley, office receptionist.

No school, business, or industry can operate smoothly and effectively without capable employees behind the scenes. The secretarial staff of Kecoughtan High School is certainly an efficient and loyal one.

Under the guidance of and through the organizational efforts of Mrs. Elizabeth Cook, the Main Office co-ordinates the routines necessary to the efficient operation of a large secondary school. College transcripts and class schedules are the responsibility of Mrs. Cook. She is also the co-sponsor of the senior class, and orders announcements, calling cards, and class rings for the students.

Mrs. Anita McKinley serves as receptionist and secretary for the Main Office. She performs the routine duties connected with office procedures and serves as a link between administration, faculty, and students.

The bookstore is Mrs. Helen Atwell's center of operation. She directs the sales of school supplies to students and faculty, and issues textbooks. Another service she performs for the faculty is the typing of stencils for tests which are to be mimeographed.

Mrs. Naomi Snaidman and the IBM machine handle the heavy burden of arranging students schedules, tallying absentees, and issuing report cards.

Certainly without this team of dedicated workers Kecoughtan's operation would be more difficult and less efficient.

Processing IBM cards keeps Mrs. Snaidman constantly busy.

Books, magazines, records, films, and audio-visual equipment come from the Kecoughtan library to help the students gain knowledge in many subject fields. Miss Spain and Mrs. Brockley co-ordinate the numerous services of the library so efficiently that it functions smoothly at all times.

Reference books, out-dated magazines, and pamphlets are available in the reference rooms for the use of the students and the teachers. Classes in the use of the library are taught yearly to the sophomores by the librarians. Miss Spain and Mrs. Brockley also train students as library aides and teach many of the boys to operate the various kinds of audio-visual equipment.

Certainly the students and faculty have the right to be proud of the library, its librarians, and its equipment and contents.

Because English is the basic element in a school curriculum, Kecoughtan offers a variety of courses designed to meet the needs and ambitions of its entire student body. The English classes offer work in grammar, essays, short stories, novels, poems, and plays. This department, with Mrs. Elizabeth Woodard as chairman, provides regular, college preparatory, and advanced courses in English.

Mrs. Woodard and Mrs. Lee Robinson co-operated in a team teaching program. This innovation proved very successful for both teachers and students. A special class in Humanities was introduced this year under the supervision of Miss Gayle Lemmond. The course offers an introduction to philosophic thinking as related to art, science, and philosophy itself.

The Drama course, with Mr. Johnny Meadows as instructor, provides the students with a knowledge of stage techniques and terminology, and practice in acting. Other courses offered in this department as electives are Speech and Journalism. These classes provide students with opportunities to learn public speaking techniques, and to produce a newspaper.

Faculty and students take pride in the quality and variety of subject material offered in the Language Arts department.

With increased communication, trade, and travel the study of foreign languages has become an essential part of any educational system.

Those offered for study are French, Latin, German, and Spanish. There is a two year course in each language available to the student. The French and Latin study maybe expanded into a three or four year program, and Spanish is available for three years of study.

A new language laboratory and excellent teachers have made the foreign language program a success.

Displaying their Latin project, Anne Mahaffey and Sylvia Thomas model their Roman togas.

Industrial Arts

Introduction of new ideas and practices has marked this second year of operation for the Koughtan Industrial Arts program. Mr. Harvey Grady has initiated welding and shop theory into his classes and introduced new equipment into the shops. The collection of books and magazines for a library for shop students has been one of his key projects for this year. The drafting students, under the instruction of Mr. Claude White, become skilled for positions in the architectural and engineering fields. Mr. David Rogers teaches the students the art of wood craftsmanship.

Drafting, wood, and metal shops are the three components of the Industrial Arts program. Mr. Mike Riddick is the chairman of the department. Shop students become quite proficient and skilled and produce such items as tables, tools, and car parts. The pride in personal workmanship and quality that is developed through these courses is not soon forgotten or abandoned.

The mathematics curriculum at KHS is widely diversified to meet the varied needs and demands of the school's many students.

General math and consumer math prepare students to apply their mathematical knowledge to the practical problems of daily living.

Supplementary courses are useful to all students, especially those college-bound ones. These courses include two years of algebra, plane and solid geometry, calculus, and honors math. The honors math course combines several of the above into a briefer length of study for the superior student. This course is supplemented in one class by educational television programs.

The graphing of geometry equations sometimes presents problems to Mr. Perrell's students.

These courses are co-ordinated to provide a well-balanced and harmonious program. Students, upon completion of the business education course, are prepared to advance to the challenges that the business world offers, and are ready to become the business leaders of tomorrow.

Studies

Personal finance, economics, and government are three new courses which have been added to the Social Studies department this year. The United States history, world history, and geography have been maintained for the junior and sophomore sections.

An innovation, team teaching, has been introduced by Mr. Grover Johnson and Mrs. Ann Apperson in the government course. The government classes are organized to include such activities as mock elections, congresses, and trials. A study of the nature of communism is incorporated into the classes to enable the seniors to contrast the communist and democratic systems of government.

Other social studies classes feature debates, panel discussions, and current event analyses. Mr. Bell's history classes have subscribed to an educational program offered by the New York Times.

Mr. William Greene and Mr. Homer Cuddy are responsible for supplying the boys with a physical education program. Participation in the physical education program enables the boys to increase their skills, and arouses their interests in extra-curricular activities of an athletic nature.

Wrestling, tumbling, basketball, football, and tennis are the physical activities in which the boys may participate. These sports improve muscle reflexes and co-ordination abilities. An educational program designed to improve mental alertness, health habits, and good sportsmanship is a part of the physical education curriculum also.

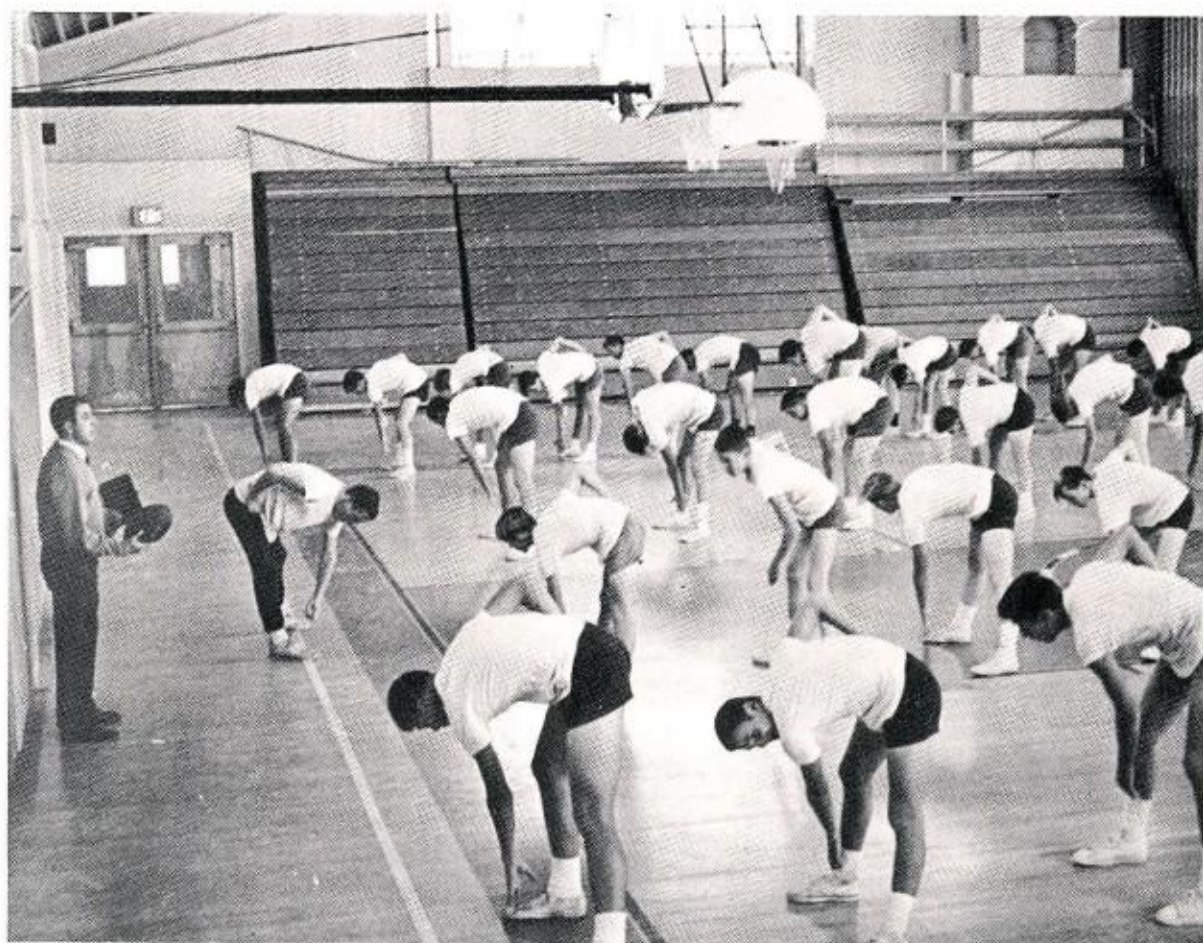

This program further extends the goal of education, to develop well-rounded personalities in the students and to enlarge their areas of interest.

Coach Croft instructs wrestling to participants of the physical education class.

Tennis techniques are taught by Mr. Brown.

Daily exercises play an important part in the boys' gym classes.

Education

Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Thompson have the responsibility of presenting a program that will benefit the girls physically and mentally. Through the activities offered, the girls learn better co-ordination and grow stronger. A program in personal hygiene and one centered around civil defense compose the educational unit.

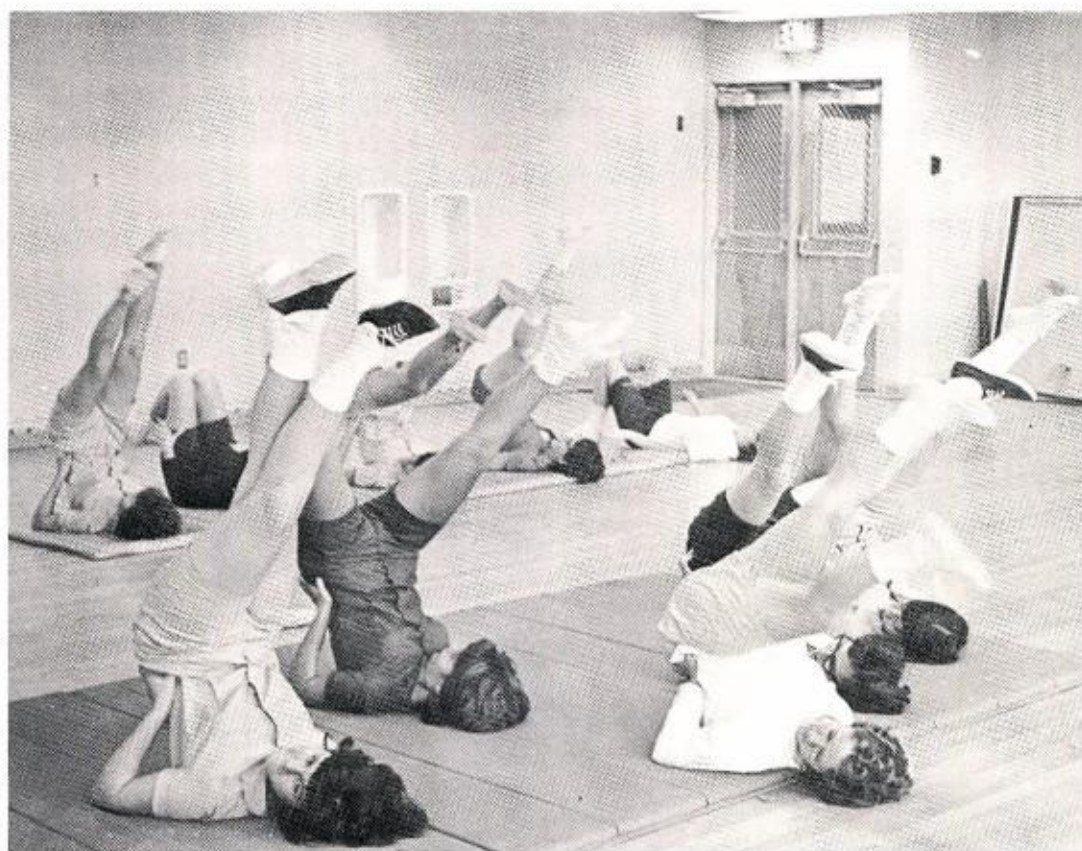

Energetic and vigorous sports characterize the unit devoted to the physical activities. Track and field events in the first six weeks prepare students for physical fitness tests in the fall. Other grading periods are devoted to modern dance, field hockey, basketball, tumbling, volleyball, and softball.

A desire to acquire and to maintain physical fitness and to practice proper personal hygiene daily, are the personal goals offered as challenges to each girl. Mrs. Phyllis Murphy and Mrs. Mary Thompson have made physical education both healthful and pleasurable.

The promotion of art in its many forms and shadings is the vocation of Mr. Alex Villers, head of the Fine Arts department. As an instructor, he emphasizes the many-sided aspects of art. Other than the traditional concepts of painting and sketching there are such diverse fields as ceramics, mosaics, and glass work offered. The art classes fill several display cases with their products, and prepare posters and signs for school organizations and activities.

Mrs. Katherine Lucas' contribution to the Fine Arts department is instruction in home-making. She teaches her students the many skills of maintaining an attractive home and a happy family. Child care, home planning, serving, and cooking are only a few of the topics which are thoroughly studied and practiced.

Mr. Villers' art classes provide attractive mosaics which are an enjoyable sight to the students of Kecoughtan.

Mr. William Barley and Mrs. Jean Curtis together work many long and hard hours to provide musical entertainment for the community, and various civic clubs, as well as for Kecoughtan High School. The band, under the direction of Mr. Barley, plays for students at pep rallies, concerts, and assemblies and also appears in local parades. The band sends many participants to local and state competitions where they ably represent the talented students of KHS. Two Kecoughtan band students are to tour Europe with the All Student U.S.A. during the summer.

As chorus director, Mrs. Jean Curtis leads A'Cappella Choir, Girls' Chorus, and Mixed Chorus. Because of the many hours of practice that both Mrs. Curtis and her students put into their work, their presentations are always a pleasure for the audience. This is testified to by the constant request for their appearance before various groups as well as the reception they receive at school performances and concerts. The Kecoughtan choral groups also had several candidates chosen for All-State Chorus.

Science

Marnie Robinson and Linda Schaller prepare a chemical experiment for observation.

Physics and physiology are the two new branches of study which have been added to the science department curriculum this year. Mrs. Gail Russell, chairman of the department, teaches physiology to a selective group of college preparatory students. This course provides the students with an advanced knowledge of human anatomy. Physics is taught by Mr. Robert Cronau. This course consists of studies in the changes of matter and energy.

A clean and healthy environment for student and faculty studies and activities is the goal of the custodial department. Mr. Lemuel Revels heads a staff of hard workers who perform the many necessary "clean-up" tasks about the school. Classrooms, work shops, the gymnasium, and the auditorium, as well as many other facilities are kept sparkling clean. Providing fresh towels for gym classes and clean uniforms for athletes also fall into the services performed by the custodians. A grateful student body and faculty reflect the praises due to the custodians.

Classes

The three classes of students which supply the school spirit of Kecoughtan High School are introduced in this section. It is we students who must keep the life of the school active and thriving. We have been guided and the paths have been opened to us, but it is we who must carry through to the goals once they are known. Such guidance allows us to learn from early experience what is to be expected of us later in life and how we should react when responsibilities are placed before us.

Being introduced to high school life was quite an adjustment for the sophomores. Orientation was held in August for the sophomore class and other students who were transferring to Kecoughtan. Eventually class officers were chosen to lead the sophomores toward their goals. A school-wide paper drive, sponsored by the sophomores was held to start the accumulation of necessary funds. Two firsts for the sophomores as well as for Kecoughtan were the donation of a Victory Flag, and the selection of JV cheerleaders solely from the sophomore class.

Competition between the classes encourages the students to make their class shine whether it concerns contributions toward a community project or within the school. The classes took part in an SCA canned food drive at Christmas. The drive was a contest between the classes to see which class could donate more canned food, the prize to be the "Spirit Jug". The sophomore class won and took possession of the treasured "Jug". This type of rivalry encourages the students to take an interest in and to participate in school activities. A "Warrior License Plate Sale" was sponsored by the junior class to raise money for the first Junior Ring Dance. The Ring Dance, held at the Hotel Chamberlin, proved to be a complete success, much to the delight of all those who worked so very diligently on the planning and decorating for the dance.

Kecoughtan's senior class helped organize SCA and senior class committees to cover the wide array of school activities. This is Kecoughtan's first year in group 1-A sports competition. It is believed that the depth and experience gained from this year's athletic competitions will prove to be rewarding for all of KHS. Several of the Warrior athletes achieved outstanding awards in their respective fields.

Outstanding participation of the students does not begin and end with sports. Scholastically, Kecoughtan has many students of whom we are proud. Varied skills were revealed by students who seem to be filled with unusual talents. Such talents as leadership ability, art, music, drama, and creative composition were much in evidence.

Class dues and money making projects helped finance such activities as the Senior Class Prom, Class Night, and the Senior Class Gift. Each of these will long be remembered by the Class of '65.

With the approach of graduation, Kecoughtan's Alma Mater, written by one of our students, Rosemary Sulkevich, made its first appearance. The Alma Mater was introduced to the public at one of Kecoughtan's many concerts, and was sung by the Senior Class at Class Night activities.

Examinations brought the year to a close for the sophomore and junior classes. The senior class did not bid farewell to KHS until graduation on June 10. The 1964-1965 school year has set precedents for all succeeding classes to follow.

Seniors

Mrs. Latham enjoys her work as Senior Class sponsor.

The Class of '65 is proud of its status as the first graduating class of Kecoughtan High School. Seniors have set the pace in leadership, scholarship, athletics, and tradition, a pace that will be hard to match. The officers: Ray Hill, president; David Hargrove, vice-president; Beverly Bendos, secretary; Karen Rountree, treasurer; and Norma Kellogg, chaplain, formulated plans for a memorable year.

The school year started with a football dance at Willis to raise funds to support class activities. The "Spirit Jug" was won by the Seniors in determined competition against the Sophomores.

Bob Henderson, a member of Kecoughtan's swimming team, brought recognition to the school and to the Senior class by winning the state diving championship. Kecoughtan Seniors won all the city wide leadership awards sponsored by the Elks Club. Sam Zeldner, SCA president, placed first in state-wide competition. In addition, Kecoughtan's Senior class was the only one in the state honored by having two National Merit Scholarship winners, Don Prusaitis and Martin Schlesinger.

The Senior Talent Show was established this year, featuring the varied entertainment of folksingers, dancers, pianists, and the unusual "Happy Whistlers". The Senior Class play "Pride and Prejudice" was presented in the true spirit of "the show must go on" — even when handicapped by laryngitis and hives.

The Senior class had a gala evening to take the place of the regular Junior-Senior Prom. Queen Joan Pervier, her court, and their escorts danced to the theme-song "Ebb Tide." Roses were presented to Prom Committee chairman Anne Alford and class sponsor Mrs. Eylese Latham. It was the loveliest night of the year.

Arrival of the announcements, the calling cards, and the caps and gowns brought the realization of the nearness of graduation. Announcements and calling cards were delivered to each homeroom by Jefferson Harrison and his committee; caps and gowns were distributed by Chairman Donna Barnes and her committee, aided by the senior homeroom representatives.

Examinations, and the Baccalaureate sermon filled the days after Class Night until the final, most important step: Graduation '65. Valedictorian Ray Hill and Salutatorian Bettijoyce Breen addressed the graduates. Guest speaker was Mr. C. Alton Lindsay, Hampton School Superintendent. Mr. Szetela presented scholarships and awards.

Solemnity, tears, sadness, relief, and joy marked the receiving of diplomas. An awareness of the future, its adventure, its heartbreak, its promise and its eager yearning add new perspective to our lives and to our outlook.

Senior Class officers: Ray Hill, president; David Hargrove, vice-president; Karen Rountree, treasurer; Beverly Bendos, secretary; and Norma Kellogg, chaplain.

Mrs. Moore, Senior Class guidance counselor, Mrs. Cook, Senior Class co-sponsor, and Mr. Szetela work busily on plans for Commencement Exercises.

Hoping for clear skies, Seniors practice for the big night: Graduation.

Tom Ray and Bettijoyce Breen await their cues behind the scenes of the Senior Class play, "Pride and Prejudice."

"The Happy Whistlers," Don Cowles, Sam Zeldner, and Bruce Edmonds, provide comic entertainment in the Senior Talent Show.

Juniors

The Junior Class started a prosperous and lively year headed by officers Don Polifka, president; Susan Carmel, vice-president; Sally Hurlbut, secretary; Nan Gardner, treasurer; and Toni Rew, chaplain.

The juniors began early to establish traditions for the class as they planned a Junior Ring Dance, which was held at the Chamberlin Hotel.

The Ring Dance had to be financed, so projects were immediately started. The class held a successful football dance at Willis, and Kecoughtan license plates were sold. Ten dollars in cash was offered as a prize to a lucky tag owner, chosen at random, as purchase incentive. Class dues also added to the funds for the dance.

The Ring Dance, with its beautiful decorations, the effects of hard work on the part of the dance committee, became a perfect ending to a wonderful year.

The Juniors worked ambitiously all year, each member of the class contributing his share of the work. Their efforts will be rewarded when they return in the fall as SENIORS.

The traditional hallmark of the Junior Class is proudly displayed.

"What, me worry about the game?"

The cheerleaders were slightly scalped (but they're still cute)!

"I dare you to cross that line."

All Breck girls are interesting.

The Sophomore Class proved to be spirited contributors to the school functions in their first year at Kecoughtan. The class of '67 was the largest and boasted freely of this.

Election of class officers was the first item on the agenda for the sophomores. The results were: Jeff Smith, president; John Brown, vice-president; Faye Teich, secretary; Virginia Robertson, treasurer; and Claudia Knight, chaplain.

Evidence of augmented class enthusiasm was shown by the winning of the coveted Spirit Jug. In the canned foods drive, the sophomores donated more items than any other group. Jeff Smith accepted the unexpected honor from a surprised Ray Hill, Senior class president. Jeff's advice to Ray: "Better luck next time!"

The first attempt at fund-raising was a paper drive. All classes joined forces, contributing paper to aid the Sophomores. At only ten dollars a ton, they needed all the help they could get!

A Sophomore tradition started this year was the junior varsity cheerleading squad, composed entirely of Sophomore girls. Their exuberance added much to the fun of junior varsity basketball. We must also thank the Sophomore Class for our first Victory flag.

The past year was a decisive one for the Class of 1967. It proved their ability to organize and to accept responsibility. They are well on their way to proving themselves worthy of the position they will hold when 1967 comes into view. Jeff Smith says: "We are the hope of the future." We believe that he is right.

Sophomores

Julie Pristash and Jack Hodges add to the gigantic pile of papers collected by the Sophomores.

Activities

In striving to gain recognition for our academic achievements, we must not overlook the many opportunities at Kecoughtan High School which are open to students to develop their personalities and talents. Many organizations at KHS provide outlets for our imaginations and energies.

Some organizations such as the National Honor Society, the Quill and Scroll, and the National Thespian Society bestow membership on individuals in appreciation of their hard work and achievements. Discovering new talents and learning to work together for the good of the whole group is the primary objective of such groups as the band, choral groups, the Debate teams and the staffs of the Tomahawk and Tribal Tales. Many clubs meet where students who wish to can delve deeper into the subjects of their interests. Other clubs; however, are concerned primarily with the development of the individual's character, sense of responsibility, and service.

Many doors are open to the students who wish to learn more about various possible careers. The Future Business Leaders of America, the Future Teachers of America, the Future Homemakers of America, and the Future Nurses of America welcome interested members.

No matter what your interest or favorite hobby, there is a club, society, committee, or organization which will meet your interests. Your participation, work, and support will enable you to grow mentally, and in poise, talent, character, and the ability to get along with others.

Student Cooperative Association

SCA officers: Martha Coenen, treasurer; Terry Close, secretary; Sam Zeldner, president; Kenny Besecker, vice-president; Beth Johnson, chaplain.

The Student Cooperative Association of Kecoughtan High School can be proud of the many accomplishments that it has achieved this year. Under the leadership of Sam Zeldner, the SCA developed and adopted a constitution, helped to strengthen school spirit, sponsored various drives for community and national organizations, provided financial and physical support to the classes and other school organizations.

Each week of the school year presented new challenges, problems, and opportunities for service to the SCA. The executive committee met each Tuesday morning to discuss and plan student activities. The work of these students and the homeroom Student Council representatives has been a tremendous asset to our school and will be recognized and appreciated for many years to come.

The Inter-Club Council is a very important division of the Student Cooperative Association. This organization was developed for the purpose of building understanding and cooperation between the various clubs of the school. Ken Besecker, vice-president of the SCA, presided over all meetings. The Inter-Club Council coordinated all club meeting dates, helped to plan the school's social calendar, discussed club problems, and, most recently, helped to develop a school handbook. Still in a stage of development and growth, this organization promises to be useful to the school body, faculty, and administration.

National Honor Society

Earline Whitehouse selects a paper-back edition from the National Honor Society Bookstore while Bettijoyce Breen waits to complete the sale.

To be considered for membership in the National Honor Society, one must possess at least a 3.5 scholastic average for three consecutive semesters.

Bettijoyce Breen, in her position as president, led the chapter in fulfilling its objective of promoting scholarship, character, leadership, and service among the members and entire student body. The activities for the year included sponsoring the school paper-back bookstore and organizing, through the Guidance Office, a special student tutoring service. The annual induction of new members was held in the spring at a special assembly.

The other officers who assisted Bettijoyce in the society's endeavors were: Jeff Harrison, vice-president; Yetta Jacobs, secretary-treasurer; and Bob Woerner, parliamentarian. Mr. Alexander Villers served as sponsor of the chapter.

Quill and Scroll members: (Row 1) Anne Tyler, Yetta Jacobs, Ann Patching, Vivian McGehee, Pam McGehee, Vickie King; (Row 2) Jay Spitzer, Jeff Harrison, Carroll Brown.

Quill and Scroll

Membership in Kecoughtan's chapter of Quill and Scroll is open only to those students who have maintained a high scholastic average, served on a publication staff, and possess a desire to further their work in the journalism field.

Organizing and publishing the literary magazine, THE TORCH, was the Quill and Scroll's project for 1964-65. In an attempt to exhibit the best of the students' literary and artistic accomplishments, the members urged the entire school to submit their work for consideration by the staff. From those submitted, the best were selected and printed in this Spring publication.

The chapter members compromised the editorial staff of this issue. They were: Barbara Rasmussen, editor-in-chief; Don Prusaitis, poetry editor; Yetta Jacobs, prose editor; Jay Spitzer, managing editor; Anne Tyler, art editor; and Pam McGehee, typing editor. Miss Linda Rogers and Miss Mary McDearmon were sponsors of this literary work.

Mrs. Elizabeth Woodard, Mr. Albert Smith, and Mrs. Joel Grimm were the sponsors of the Quill and Scroll.

Quill and Scroll officers were: Anne Tyler, vice-president; Barbara Rasmussen, president; and Pam McGehee, secretary-treasurer.

Chess Club

Formally representing our school in inter-scholastic competition, the Chess Club of Kecoughtan High School worked to promote an interest in the hobby and sport of chess.

As a member of the Peninsula Chess League, the club had a series of eighteen matches. One important distinction the club holds is that of winning over Hampton's Chess Club in one of their games.

Officers for the 1964-1965 year were: Terry Haynes, president; Pete Smoak, vice-president; and Ann Hatten, secretary. The club's sponsor for this year was Mr. Gary L. Kilbourne.

Despite all the usual headaches a newspaper encounters—forgotten deadlines, misplaced articles, lost pictures, time-consuming proofreading—the TRIBAL TALES staff successfully published a series of monthly newspapers which covered all the events of Kecoughtan and presented notes of interest to the faculty as well as to the student body. Under the supervision and guidance of Mrs. Joel Grimm, the staff spent many hours after school to produce these publications of merit and high quality.

The members of the editorial staff were: Joan Pervier and Terrie Curet, co-editors; Bill Powers and Frances Farmer, business managers; Lee Peters, sports manager; Lynn Kyle, news editor; Fred Cherota, photographer; Susan Locke, feature editor; Mike Kimbrell, headline editor; Debbie Martin, advertising editor; and Cindy Pinson, exchange editor.

The TRIBAL TALES sports staff works on a lay-out for their section.

Susan Locke sells an issue of the newspaper to an interested Kecoughtan student.

Tomahawk Staff

Assistant section editors Pam McGehee, Judi Russell, Jack Aenchbacher, and Doris Payne confer with Editor-in-Chief, Anne Tyler.

Composing ability, typing, artistry, and photography are just a few of the talents required to produce a yearbook. The TOMAHAWK staff of eighteen students, under the leadership of their sponsors, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Woodard and Mr. Albert H. Smith, produced the school's first complete 204 page annual. These pages provide a permanent record of all students, faculty members, events and happenings in this year of Kecoughtan's first graduating class.

Much work is required in writing the copy; photographing, identifying, and cropping pictures; and drafting layouts until the final, finished product, a typed master, is ready.

Unlike last year, the staff met for one hour daily during the sixth period. The staff, with the help of various school clubs, sold advertisements to help finance the annual.

We hope that you, our readers, will enjoy and treasure this second volume of the TOMAHAWK, the yearbook of Kecoughtan High School.

Suzan Carter, Mrs. Woodard, Linda Pearson, Anne Tyler, Toni Wirth, Don Kincaid, and Ann Patching are busy plotting, planning, and drawing for the '65 TOMAHAWK.

Jack Aenchbacher and Suzan Carter, editors of the Classes Section, spend a few moments planning the lay-outs for The Hall of Fame pages.

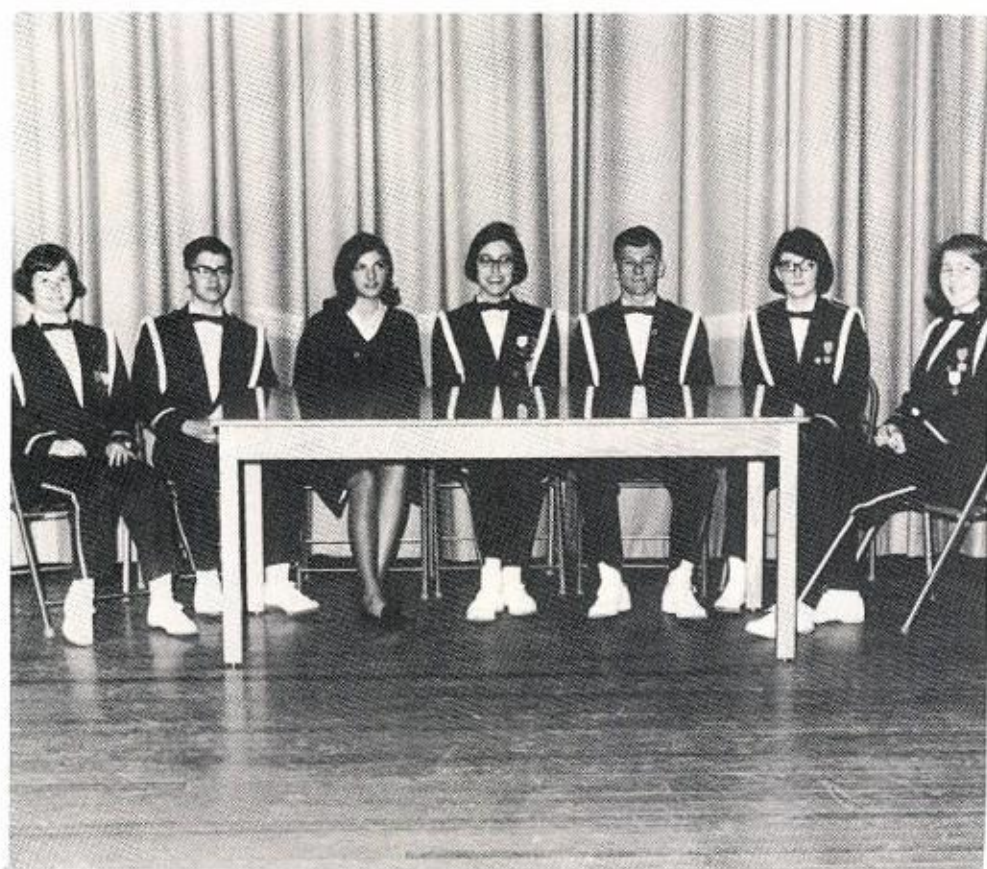

Teamwork is an essential attribute needed in preparing an annual. Pam McGehee and Judi Russell work together to crop a picture.

Photographer Don Kincaid often finds himself in hazardous positions while performing his job.

K.H.S. Band Council: Sandra Stewart, representative of Sophomore class; Harry Ferber, representative to the I.C.C.; Betty Dement, representative of Senior Class; Susan Hurst, president; Bobby Julian, vice-president; Linda Davenport, secretary; Christine Suterer, treasurer, S.C.A. representative.

In the fall, the K.H.S. marching band under the direction of Mr. W. P. Barley made its appearance in new uniforms bought through the sales of candy, the efforts of the Band Parents' Association, and the support of the faculty and student body. The marching band performed for all home football games, a few away games, and participated in several parades. The annual Christmas performance of the concert band was followed by the Winter presentation in February and the formal Spring concert in May. This year the band sent thirteen bandmen to the District VIII Regional Band and twenty-one to the District VIII Workshop Band. These were held at Newport News High School in February. During the annual Music Festival held this year at Benjamin Syms Junior High School, the judges were highly complimentary of the band's performance. Solos and ensembles prepared by individual members were presented at this time. This year was a rewarding one for our hard-working band members and their devoted leader, Mr. W. P. Barley.

The Choral Department, composed of the A Cappella Choir, the Mixed Chorus, and the Girls' Chorus, was guided by Mrs. Jean Curtis in its many activities. The main events this year were the annual Fall, Christmas, and Spring Concerts. The three choral groups also participated in special school assemblies and programs. Among these was the A Cappella's selection at the Senior Class Baccalaureate Service. In addition to these performances, programs were presented for local civic groups and area schools.

In order to raise funds to pay for the new green and white A Cappella robes, the Department sponsored an informal school dance and held, with the Distributive Education Department, a Spring Fashion Show, "The Sands of Time."

Six A Cappella members — Betty Lou Helbig, Barbara Davis, Carol Thomas, Carroll Brown, Elwood Miracle, and Dean Jernigan — were Ke-coughtan's representatives to the All-State Chorus, while twenty-nine members from all three groups were KHS's delegates to the District 8 Regional Chorus.

Bids of membership to Kecoughtan's drama honor society, Thespians, are issued to a select few recognizing their outstanding dramatic activities.

In order to be eligible for membership in Kecoughtan's Chapter of National Thespians, a student must have earned at least ten points by working on any school play. One point is the equivalent to one hour of work in any of the various fields of drama. A member must have also worked in at least two different fields to achieve the requirements for eligibility.

Mr. Johnny Meadows was sponsor of this honor dramatic group in its first year of organization.

Drama Club

Helping students learn about the various fields of drama and school dramatic activities is the purpose of the Drama Club. Led by President Jill Murray, the members planned several activities in an effort to fulfill this purpose for 1964-65.

The organization helped present this year's fall and three one-act plays, sold membership tickets to the World Enrichment Program to Kecoughtan students, and engaged a speaker from the Community Little Theater for a special program.

Other officers who assisted Jill were: Barbara Rasmussen, vice-president; Donna Barnes, secretary; Liz Sansone, treasurer; Bob Green, sergeant-at-arms; and Colleen Downey, scrapbook chairman. Mr. Johnny Meadows was sponsor of the club.

Audio-Visual Staff

Mrs. Brockley, Miss Spain, Jack Barbour, Lee Peters, Danny Crehan, Robert Dixon, Terry Haynes, Ted Harvey, Robert McCall, Roger West, Al Fields, Tim Daugherty, Tom Cook, Don Kincaid.

Organized to render service to the library and to the faculty, the Audio-Visual Staff succeeded in fulfilling every aspect of this aim. The library has a variety of equipment which is in constant use in the classrooms as aids in the teaching of various courses.

Each morning the master schedule in the Audio-Visual Room was checked by staff members, who then delivered the requested equipment to the teachers. At the close of each day, the equipment was picked up and returned to the Audio-Visual Room by a member of the staff.

Staff members also assisted students who wished to listen through the special equipment to the library's many classical and semi-classical recordings. A large part of this collection was a gift from the late Mr. Alex Mendelson.

President Jack Barbour and Vice-President Curtis Adams, with the sponsors, Mrs. Ethel P. Brockley and Miss Nancy Spain, led in making the many Audio-Visual facilities accessible upon request.

Library Assistants

Under the direction of Miss Nancy Spain and Mrs. Ethel P. Brockley, Koughtan's two librarians, the Library Assistants contributed valuable aid in the functioning of the library. Their varied duties consisted of typing, filing cards, processing and shelving books, working at the main desk, and assisting in the reading and reference areas. Each aide, by carrying out a daily check on an assigned area, was responsible for keeping that section of books in correct arrangement.

These students provided beneficial assistance to the library, and in so doing, acquired a more extensive idea of how a library is operated, and learned how to use the available materials more efficiently and to their own advantage. In addition to this valuable experience and knowledge, the various possibilities of work in the library field were also shown to these students. As a result, the library volunteers realized the importance of exact library procedures and tried to meet the standards set for the staff by the librarians.

Student Assistants

Through the co-operation of the Student Assistants, indispensable aid was rendered to the faculty, the administration, and the students themselves. With Mrs. Evelyn Moore as director, these volunteers worked in the Assistant Principal's Office, the bookstore, the clinic, the Dean of Girls' Office, the Guidance Department, the IBM Office, and the Main Office. The duties they performed were as varied as the different areas in which they served. By their daily collection of absentee cards from each classroom, some enabled Mrs. Snaidman to have more time to devote to the intricate operation of the IBM machines. Others served as receptionists in the Guidance Department and assisted students in obtaining conferences and information about colleges. Still others attended to the needs of those who came to the Main Office.

A scholastic average of "C", one free period, and a desire to help others were the requirements for being a student assistant. As a result of this meritorious work, these students gained valuable experience in serving the needs of others.

Arousing student interest and encouraging student usage of the library facilities were the main goals of the Library Club. A school-wide "Book of the Month" contest, various bulletin board exhibits, and continuous book displays were conducted with the primary purpose of promoting these aims.

Under the guidance of co-sponsors, Mrs. Ethel P. Brockley and Miss Nancy Spain, several other projects were successfully completed. These activities included the purchasing of floor covering for the library showcase and the voluntary donation of school supplies to a deserving school in an area of the state. Members of this club also visited local elementary schools during National Book Week and National Library Week and entertained the children with stories and assisted the librarians with their regular duties.

Heading this organization for the 1964-65 year were Judy Carhart, president; Jack Barbour, vice-president; Anne Alford, treasurer; and Mettah McClurkin, secretary.

Latin Club

Throughout the year, Kecoughtan's Latin Club, better known to its members as "Sodalitas SPQR", endeavored to promote the organization through local and district-wide programs.

To begin the year, the club held a September orientation program to take in new members. A joint meeting with four district schools, a special program for the city's junior high schools, and a Roman-style banquet in March to initiate the new members added to the activities of the group. For the festive touch at the end of the year, the new officers were installed at a banquet held in May.

The Latin Club's contribution to the library of a set of Will Durant's THE STORY OF CIVILIZATION will be of much assistance to the student body in their various studies.

The officers of this active organization and their titles were: Kathe McKiernan, Consul; Martha Coenen, Pro-Consul; Judi Russell, Scriba; Peggy Blankenship, Quaester; John Curtis, Censor; Claudia Reams, Pontifex Maximus. Mrs. Kingoff served as sponsor.

German Club

Through several informative programs presented to the group, the German Club carried out its aim of promoting the interest of its members in the culture and knowledge of Germany. Among these activities were a Christmas social and a Fasching party.

The "Die Duetsch Krieger" worked to enlarge the facilities of the German Department. By donating all proceeds from several money-making projects for the purchase of more equipment, the department obtained new records and tapes which proved beneficial in the teaching of the German language.

President Peggy Blankenship led the operations of the club with the assistance of Vice-President Richard Roberts, Secretary Jeanne Vitale, Treasurer Kathy Wagner, Chaplain Mary Lee Hogge, and Inter-Club Council Representative Stephanie Williams. Miss Marsha Byassie guided these leaders in her position as club sponsor.

Providing interested students with an opportunity to better their understanding of the French culture was the primary goal of Kecoughtan High School's French students having a "C" or better average for three straight semesters.

Under the leadership of Suzan Carter, president, and aided by their sponsor, Miss Carole Lushinsky, programs were presented on the language of France. Guest speakers and slides supplemented the programs. Assisting Suzan were Susan Fox, vice-president; Terry Loftin, secretary; Bettijoyce Breen, treasurer; Mary Ann Sydnor, representative to the I. C. C., and Terry Genone, parliamentarian.

Spanish Club

Eligibility for membership in the Spanish Club, sponsored by Miss Judith Gibson, was a "C" or better average for two consecutive semesters.

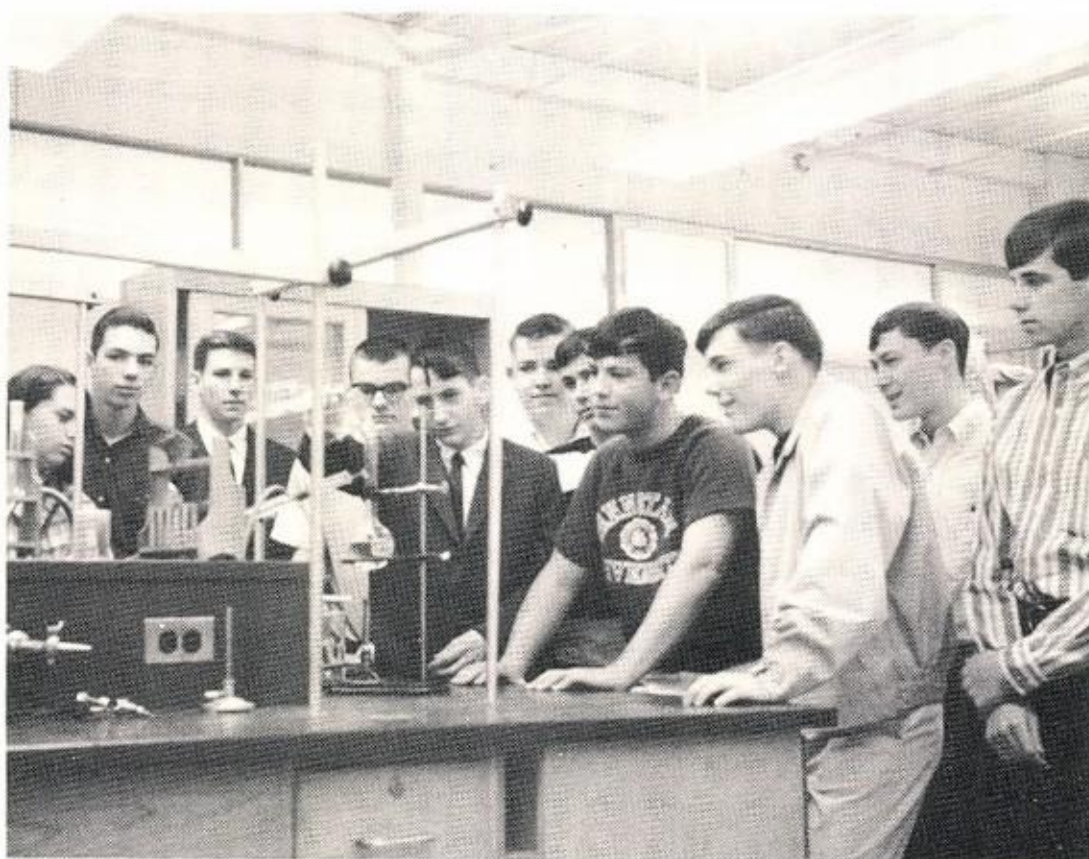

The members of the Spanish Club have opportunities to participate in the club activities and to build leadership qualities. Club officers for this year were Sally Maslowski, president; Carla Cooper, vice-president; Linda Vanderbilt, secretary-treasurer; and Jill Adams, program chairman.

Activities for the Spanish Club started with a car wash held to raise funds to help support a Mexican orphan. During the Christmas season, the Spanish Club exhibited its Yule-tide spirit by collecting foods, clothing, and toys, which were turned over to the Welfare Department for distribution to needy families.

The Chem-Phy Club, which is concerned with the two sciences, chemistry and physics; was formed this year at Kecoughtan High School. The club was under the direction of Miss Phyllis Dudley, a chemistry teacher.

Established to promote an interest in chemistry and physics, the club is also concerned with the answering of any questions which might arise among its members on any science problem.

Officers for the 1964-1965 year were: Robert Woerner, president; Dan Schmierer, vice-president; and Susan Locke, secretary-treasurer.

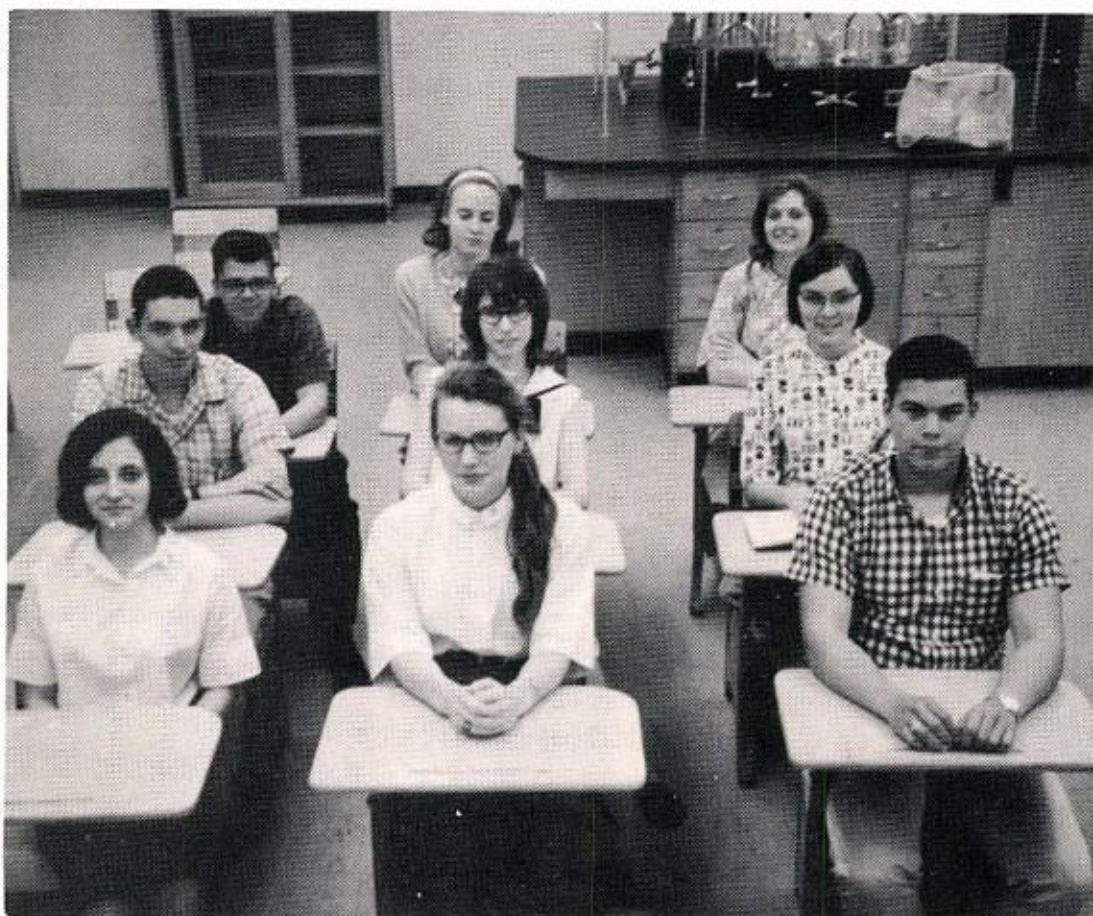

Biological Society

To promote an interest in and an appreciation for biology is the Kecoughtan Biological Society's primary function. The club tries to develop in its members scientific methods and knowledge for ways of doing things which may be of assistance throughout their lives. Any person having a "B" average for one semester is welcome to attend their twice-monthly meetings.

The Biological Society is a member of the State Science Club, sponsored by the Virginia Association of Science Teachers. The State Science Club informs its member clubs of all the latest scientific information.

Saturday, April 3, members of the Biology Club served as guides for the Tidewater Science Fair. Marine Biology was one of the topics of study by the club. The club in its study worked on a salt-water aquarium containing specimens of the local marine life. This was displayed in one of the two showcases the club is responsible for decorating.

The club officers for the 1964-1965 year were: Joseph Wimberly, president; Cathy Paolino, vice-president; Mary Ann Sydnor, secretary; Cindy Smees, treasurer; and Mary Wallace, representative to the I.C.C. Mrs. Woods served as the club's sponsor.

Debate Team

The Debate Team, sponsored by Mr. Earl P. Bell, Jr., provided interested students with opportunities to develop their oratorical and reasoning abilities. They also learned effective public speaking.

Members of the club spent the first part of the year gathering valuable information, which was used in the meets against other schools in the Tidewater area.

The debaters have spent many hours in the public libraries doing research on this year's topic of debate, Resolved: "That nuclear weapons should be placed under international control."

At their weekly meetings they discussed the methods of questioning which they planned to use during the coming weeks.

Mettah McClurkin, senior; John Curtis, junior; and Jeff Smith, sophomore; received honorable mention for their participation in the discussion groups at the University of Virginia in the fall. To complete the team are Greg Barnhardt, Bill Webb, Lance Wittliff, Susie Locke, Randy Royce, and Curtis Adams.

The Kecoughtan High School debaters took fourth place in the Norfolk Catholic Tour. The debaters also participated in a number of Tidewater area meets including the annual ones at Wilson High School, the St. Vincent Invitational, the Ferguson High School meet, and the Eastern District Forensic meet in April.

Officers who organized Kecoughtan's FBLA chapter were (Row 1) Pam McGehee, secretary; Elaine Skibicki, president; Barbara Small, vice-president; Anne Tyler, parliamentarian; (Row 2) Ann Patching, ICC representative; Ann Goode, historian; Jan Patching, reporter.

Organization was the key word of the Future Business Leaders of America for 1964-65. All interest in the formation of the chapter was centered around the selected theme of "Promoting an Interest in Business Education and the FBLA."

Through the efforts of President Elaine Skibicki, the chapter accomplished many goals. Among these were obtaining a state charter, formation of a chapter constitution, and a formal induction of officers. Selling advertisements for the TOMAHAWK, collecting canned foods for the Salvation Army, and participating in regional and state conventions were some of the group's varied activities this year.

Sponsors were Miss Nancy Sides and Mr. Albert Smith.

Distributive Education

John Harris, parliamentarian, sergeant at arms; Linda Cole, treasurer; Mary Ann Kelly, secretary; Barbara Small, vice-president; Ruby Paucker, president; David Porter, vice-president; Linda Brock, treasurer; and Bronson Westfall, chaplain.

The Distributive Education course, under the instruction of Mrs. Sarah Williams, provides a training program for students wishing to enter the retailing and distribution fields.

The D. E. students have one classroom period in which to learn the various techniques of advertising, selling, demonstrating, displaying, job interviewing, and public speaking. The majority of the club members leave school at one o'clock for their places of employment.

On February 16, the Kecoughtan D. E. Club competed for honors at the district convention in Williamsburg. Those receiving awards were: Carol Nichols, Mary Ann Kelly, Barbara Small, and Jaimie Kirkwood.

Two students represented the D. E. Club from Kecoughtan in the state competition held this year at the Chamberlin Hotel on April 3, 4, and 5.

Projects this year for the D. E. Club were along the lines of display. A gift shop was set up in the D. E. room during the weeks before Christmas where students could purchase gifts furnished by stores in this area. On March 27, the D. E. Club co-sponsored a fashion show, which reviewed the changes of dress through the ages.

D. E. Club District Convention winners: Jaimie Kirkwood, third place in advertising; Mary Ann Kelly, first place in display; Barbara Small, second place in display; and Carol Nichols, first place job interview.

FHA offers students many opportunities to increase their skills and knowledge in all facets of Home Economics. Linda Lowman and Jane Maggert are learning the fundamentals of sewing in this picture.

Norma Kellogg, in her position as president, led Kecoughtan's newly organized Future Homemakers of America chapter in its first year of operation. A chapter constitution was written and approved. Committees were set up to plan and carry out special service projects.

The organization's members attended the FHA annual rally held in Denbigh, Virginia. Possible career opportunities in the field of Home Economics were emphasized through the FHA's use of a special display case. Demonstration techniques were presented to the members when they visited VEPCO. Also, the members worked to help improve the Home Economics Department through funds raised selling FHA Cookbooks.

Mrs. Kay Lucas sponsored this group for the 1964-65 school year.

The Future Nurses of America was organized to interest girls in the rewarding and fascinating career of medicine. Mrs. William Alford, the sponsor of the group, assists the leaders of the club in providing and planning programs, which will further acquaint them with the duties of their chosen occupation. Their aim was achieved through the use of films, guest speakers, and personal observations made on field trips to various hospitals in the area.

Activities of the FNA this year were devoted to community service. During the Christmas season, they sang Christmas carols for the patients residing in the Kecoughtan Veterans Administration Hospital. They collected and donated food for a needy family. Other projects included a field trip to the Portsmouth Naval Hospital, and the collection of information from nearby hospitals and colleges for their nursing careers catalogue.

Future Teachers of America

FTA officers: Yetta Jacobs, vice-president; Louise Ulmschneider, treasurer; Kathie Wolfrom, president; Virginia Huneycutt, secretary; Betty Branscome, reporter; Roberta Corbett, historian.

In an effort to honor all of Kecoughtan's teachers, the FTA presented apples to each faculty member. Here Mary Reid and Beverly Wallace give Miss Gibson and Miss Sides their apples.

In an effort to present to its members the various aspects of the teaching profession, the Future Teachers of America held several informative programs. Movie films on the problems encountered in today's education, discussion of different teaching techniques, and a speaker on the experiences met in student teaching were some of the media used to achieve the goal.

Mrs. Doris Ennis sponsored the Future Teachers of America in their plans for this past year.

Audio-Sonics Club

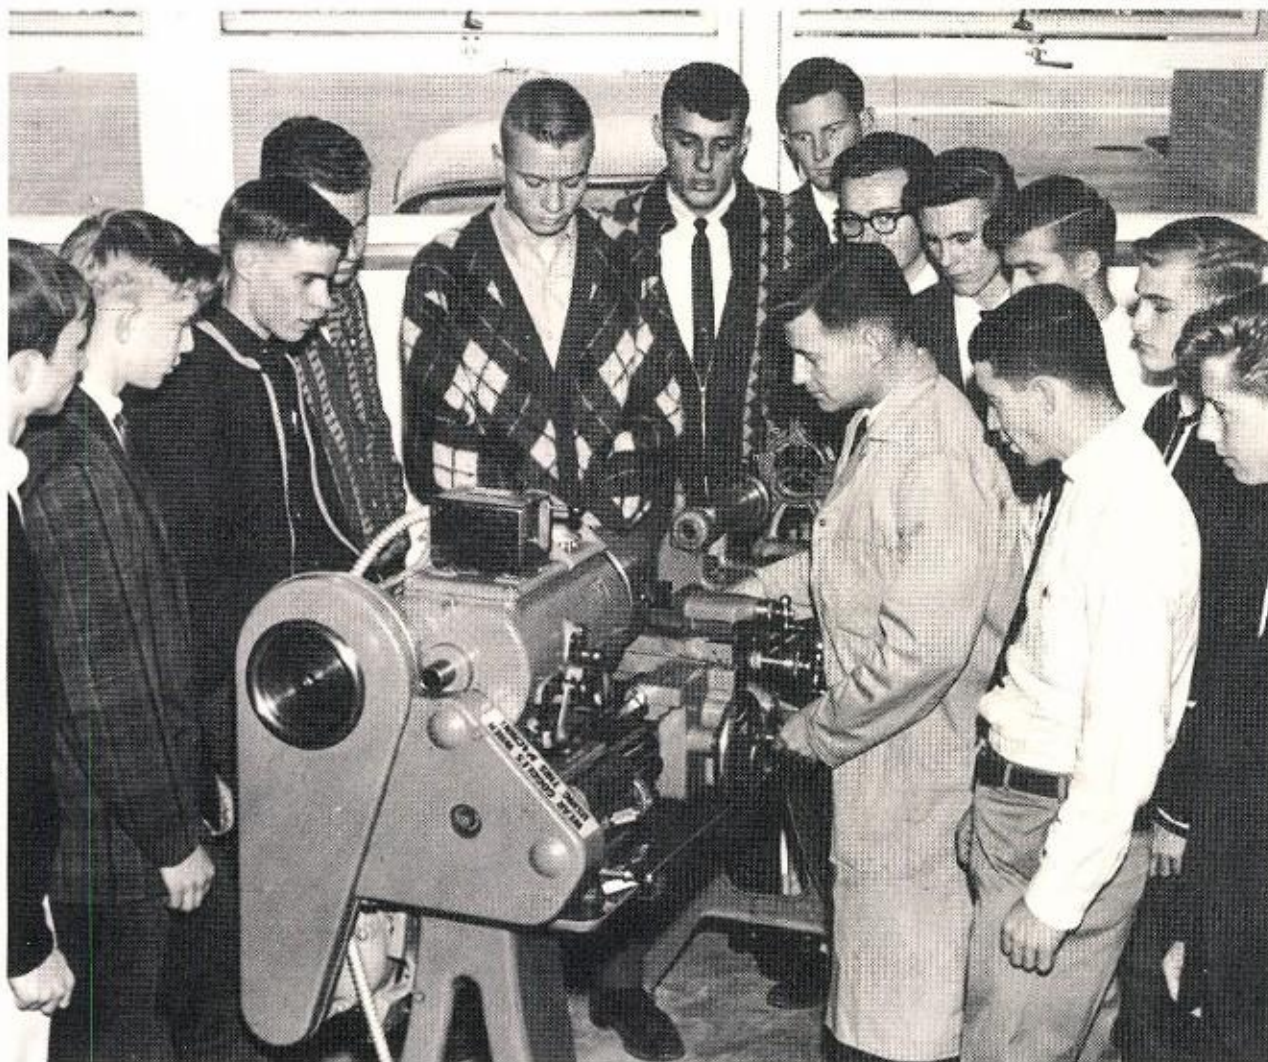

As one of the newly formed clubs at Kecoughtan High School, the Audio-Sonics Club proved to play a major role during all the pep rallies conducted in the auditorium and gymnasium.

Under the direction of their sponsor, Mr. Mike G. Riddick, the members were taught the highly mechanical techniques involved in the operation of the lights and microphones used during the assemblies and pep rallies.

Officers for the 1964-1965 year were: Roger West, president; and Ronnie Roberts, vice-president, and Jack Barbour, I.C.C. Representative.

Metal Shop Club

In its first year of operation, the Metal Shop Club, under the direction of Mr. Harvey W. Grady, promoted vocational interests in the industrial arts field. The club toured the Ford Assembly Plant in Norfolk at Christmas time. In February as part of an assembly which the club helped to sponsor, two engineers from the Reynolds Aluminum Company in Richmond spoke on the various kinds of metals used in the different industries of today.

Officers for the 1964-1965 year were: Dale Sechrist, president; and Wayne Wisecarver, vice-president.

"To build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life these ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith in Christ. In this endeavor we seek to understand Jesus, to share His love for all people and to grow in the knowledge and love of God," is the purpose of the Y-Teens at Kecoughtan High School.

During the Christmas season, the Y-Teens visited the Weaver Orphanage to distribute gifts and entertain the young people. They also participated in the "Hanging of the Greens" at the YWCA. A Roll Call Tea was sponsored by the club. On April 11 the members decorated and sang for the Lenten Breakfast.

The year's officers were: Sharon Branam, president; Christy Montgomery, vice-president; Susan Smith, secretary-treasurer; Kay Godwin, chaplain; Joann Parrish, scrapbook chairman; and Lana Hoover, song leader.

Youth For Christ

"To glorify our Saviour the Lord Jesus Christ and to make Him known among the faculty and student body through personal witness, club activity, and to win youth for Christ" is the primary purpose of the Kecoughtan Youth For Christ Club.

There are no membership requirements in order to join the YFC.

Many meetings were held this year with the Hampton YFC Club and other high school YFC clubs in the area.

One of the projects employed to raise funds for the club was the selling of the Teen Scene magazine.

Officers for the 1964-1965 year were: Dorothy Odom, president; Susan Haraway, vice-president; Katie Mason, treasurer; Linda Countryman, secretary; Linda Griffin, chaplain.

These were the students seen most often at the games—the members of the Pep Club.

During the past year, the Pep Club successfully fulfilled its purpose of promoting school spirit. When football was in season, members sold green and white pom-pom shakers, and sponsored buses to away games. Unique Dance and Drum teams were organized by the club for participation in special Pep Rallies and for arousing school spirit at athletic events. Members of the Dance team were: Diane Britt, Jo Bobbitt, Nancy Hoffman, Nancy Kastelberg, Terry Haynes, Lana Hoover, Marty Mills, Tom Parker, and Lee Peters. Sherrie Cole, Shirley Cullum, Pat Cunneen, Sandra Powell, Mary Reid, and Billie Jean Yarbrough were the members of the Drum team. During the basketball season, the Pep Club and Varsity Club co-sponsored the Sweetheart Dance, honoring the basketball queen and her court.

Mrs. Mary Thompson, Mrs. Phyllis Murphy, and Miss Ruth Hill were sponsors of this organization.

Pep Club

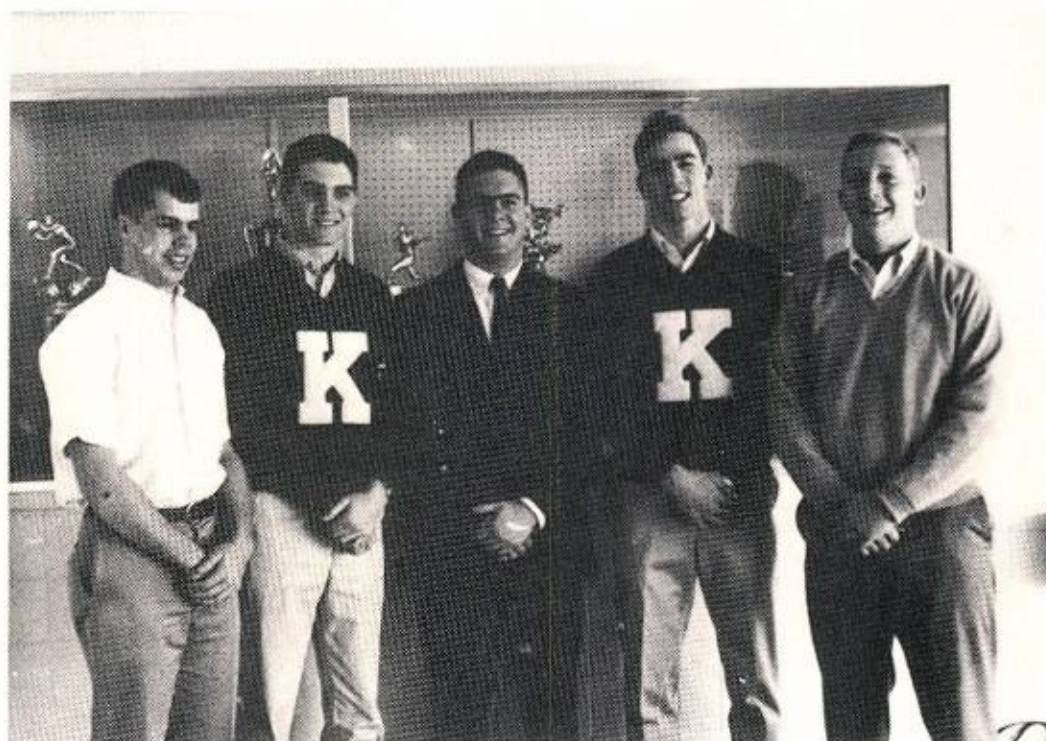

Chris Askounis, treasurer, Dean Jernigan, president, and Sheila LaBounty, secretary, led the Pep Club in its many successful activities.

Terry Haynes, with the other members of the Dance and Drum teams, helped cheer Kecoughtan's teams on to many victories.

Varsity Club K

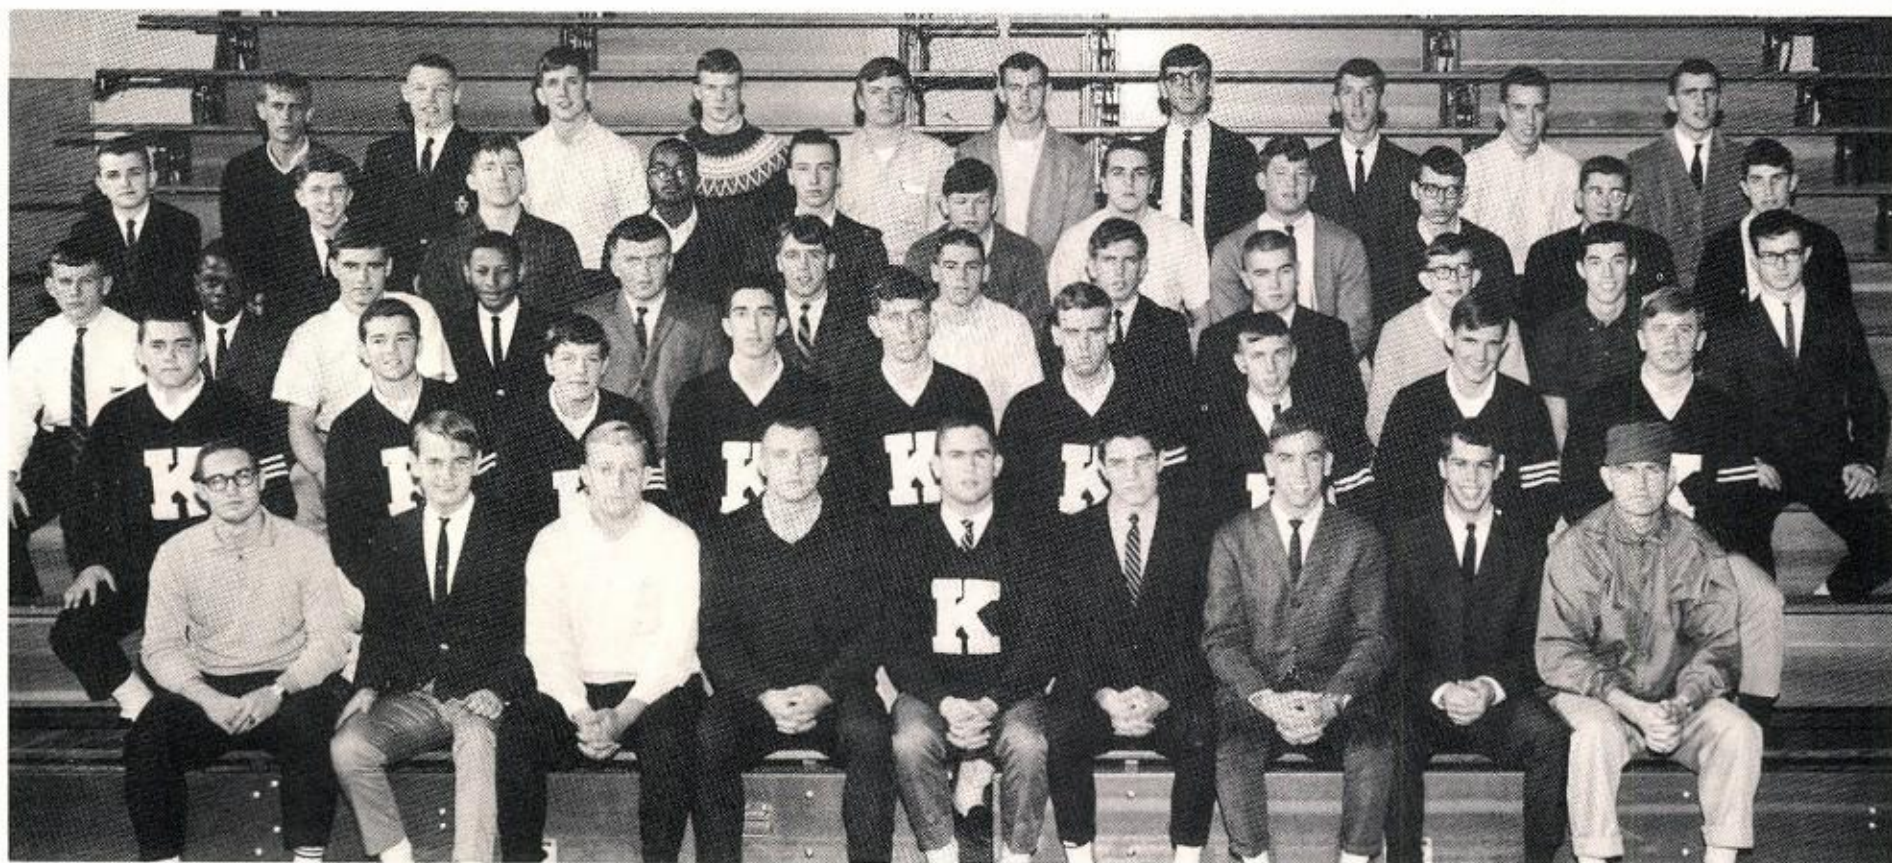

Varsity Club officers who led the organization in its activities during the past year were: Tom Catlett, treasurer; Paul Reeve, vice-president; Ray Hill, president; Alex Conley, secretary; and Doug McLane, Chaplain.

Curtis Adams, Tommy Saunders, and Robert Long utilize the training table built by the club members for use by school athletes.

The Varsity Club is organized to improve all the athletic activities of Kecoughtan and to increase the interest of students in sports. Membership is limited to those boys who have maintained passing grades, have lettered on a varsity sport, and are willing to take part in the social and service activities of the club. This year the Varsity Club and the Pep Club co-sponsored a dance and cooperated with other organizations in promoting various school-wide functions and activities. Mr. Homer Cuddy and Mr. William Green were the sponsors for 1964-65.

Key Club

Robert Richardson, secretary; Graham Dynes, president; Kenny Besecker, vice-president; Dexter Bird, treasurer; Clifford De Hart, representative of the Senior Class; and David Hargrove, chaplain not shown.

The Key Club is a service organization sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club. Under the direction of their sponsor, Mr. Mike Riddick, the Key Club strives for service and leadership in the school as well as the community.

Members are chosen from students who indicate a desire to join by submitting their names for faculty and administration approval. Eligibility for this club is a high character standard and a "C" average.

The Key Club took on its traditional project of selling programs at the games during the football season. A first for the Kecoughtan Warriors was the semi-formal Mistletoe and Holly Ball on December 22 sponsored by the Key Club.

The dance was held in the Roof Garden at the Chamberlin Hotel. Another first, but one which will no doubt turn into a tradition, was the selling of the Kecoughtan High School Student Directory.

On March 5, 6, and 7 the Warrior Key Clubbers attended the Key Club district convention in Washington. Delegates from KHS were Tommy Catlett, Ken Besecker, Sam Zeldner, Paul Reeve, Wayne Bridges, Vernon Saunders, Norman Wilkerson, Graham Dynes, Tandy Brown, Allen Laxton, Charlie Schmidt, Bob Richardson, Dexter Bird, Steve Sykes, and Al Mollen.

Tommy Saunders and Richard Taylor have little trouble in persuading Barbie Rasmussen to purchase a Student Directory.

Sports

All Kecoughtan teams entered into group 1-A competition in the 1964-1965 season. JV teams were added to several sports beginning with football. Kecoughtan played schools from Norfolk, Virginia Beach, Chesapeake and the peninsula. The football season opened against Cox which is also a new school in the Eastern district. Kecoughtan went on to defeat Cox 7-0 in this initial game. Following games averaged 5 wins and 5 losses which is believed to be a fairly successful season.

Other fall sports were also getting under way. The Cross Country team began track sports and ended with an average of 3 wins and 2 losses. Wrestling and swimming were introduced for the first time in Hampton in varsity competition. There were two outstanding athletes in both sports—Bobby Harrell, wrestling, and Bob Henderson, state diving champion.

Basketball led into the opening of spring sports: outdoor track, golf, tennis, and baseball. Basketball games provided much excitement because several of our players were rated highly for their performances. Sophomore Larry Willis will most certainly be an outstanding player for Kecoughtan for two more years. Co-captains Dean MacDonald and Steve Wills led the team in spirit and leadership. The season's record was 10 wins and 10 losses. The tennis and golf teams had an excellent season. John Brown and Larry LaBorde headed the singles and doubles. Cliff Jones and Jim Craig also helped lead the tennis team to many victories. Their season of 7 wins 4 losses earned the team 4th place in the Eastern district. The golf team also proved to be one of the best on the Peninsula. They possessed skills and abilities which gave the Warriors a strong team, and which will provide depth for next year's golf team.

All of these sports had moderately successful seasons. As a result Kecoughtan has earned a commendable reputation throughout the entire peninsula as being one big team of "hustlers". Our boys never gave in or gave up when the going got rough. They stuck to their goals and followed them through to the end of the season. Kecoughtan is a school of athletes who have untiring drive and spirit. A great deal of this drive comes from the solid backing of the excellent coaches who also never gave up. "Strive for your best and learn from your defeats", was the philosophy of the coaches. July 1, Kecoughtan will leave the Eastern district and enter Peninsula district competition.

We were unequaled in team spirit, drive, and determination. Although we did not win every athletic contest, our enthusiasm and desire to win never faltered. If all the records and victories that the Warriors set this, their first year in class 1-A competition, are any indication of what will be accomplished in years to come; we can predict a bright and victorious future for Warriors who follow.

Though many people do not realize it, one of the highly competitive and contested activities is cheerleading. Prospective cheerleaders spend much time, before and after school, in long hours of practice to perfect their cheering skills. Practice starts before the announcement of the date of judging to select the cheerleaders. It continues to the last possible moment.

When the judging is over, then comes the long wait for the announcement of the winners. Some shed tears and some are elated. Whatever the individual reaction is, those eventually selected to be members unite in further practice for the privilege of inspiring the boys' teams to victory.

The cheerleaders show the student body their newly-won talents during one of the first assemblies.

One-two-three-hike!

Grunts, groans, scuffling, frantic milling about! Several thuds! The crowd roars, then fades away.

These, of course are the sounds of football. The field is empty now, the team and crowds have gone; the season is over. Silence reigns. The silence is as spectacular as the game it voids. But memories, what memories, remain. Our first year competing on a varsity schedule, our defeats, victories, and near victories. Several coaches from rival schools have said, "The Kecoughtan Warriors are one of the hardest hitting, most determined teams we have played this year." A compliment such as this only gives an added insight into our near wins against such strong teams as Hampton, Andrew Lewis, and Newport News. These and many personal memories combine to present us with a winning football season that can only be envied.

Ray Hill, Don Coles, and Larry Larkin are honored by receiving "Most Valuable" player awards.

Though cross country is not as spectacular or attractive to spectators as football or basketball, the Warriors entered their teams against highly experienced local competitors. Distinguished performances were shown by Paul Gardner, Don Prusaitis, and Bobby Julian, who placed high in individual competition. Warrior cross country coach, Grover Johnson, himself a track man, seem satisfied with the showing made by both teams. The J. V.'s had only one loss and that came from Warwick by only one point.

The newest sport on the Warrior slate this year is swimming. The team was coached by Mr. Robert Croft, to unexpected individual success. The fact that the Warriors have no pool of their own, but have to rely on the Hampton Institute and Langley Air Force Base pools makes their season unusual. Though winless as a team, individual Warrior mermen have shown great potential and spirit.

Notable performances were made by Al Noel, Bob Henderson, and Pat Sheldon.

Some people called them "The Hustling Team" or "Bowers' Bombers". But no matter what they were called they were the best team to grace the courts that Kecoughtan has produced in its short history. Although they didn't win every game, they had a lion's share of triumphs in their competitions. Near the end of the season, Coach Hank Bowers worried a few teams with his widely publicized, new, secret plan. This turned out to be slow-down tactics. The plan proved quite effective and provided a late season spurt of wins.

A Warrior cager worthy of note, is Dean McDonald. Dean was chosen for the All Peninsula Basketball Team, and was awarded the "Most Valuable Player" and the "Best Sportsmanship" trophies.

The Junior Varsity Basketball team provided as much excitement in their games as did their Varsity counterparts. Their spirit, determination and teamwork were evident in all games, win or lose. J.V. Coach, James Hathaway was familiar to many Peninsula basketball buffs with long memories. He was co-captain of the Hampton High team back in 1957.

After watching the J.V. team in action, you have confidence in next year's Varsity team because of the many very excellent sophomores who will be Varsity team members next year.

This year ushered in another new varsity sport, wrestling. It proved to be one of the most popular sports at Kecoughtan. Coach Homer Cuddy says that when anyone participates in wrestling he must forget all his natural fighting instincts and wrestle as he is taught to do; not as his instinct suggests. Coach Cuddy also said that Peninsula competition provides some of the toughest in the state, and that his wrestlers can compete with anybody and do well.

Tennis was another sport that had a winning season for the Warriors. The team was organized by Coach J. Brown into a very efficient fighting unit. They soundly trounced 7 out of the 11 teams that they played. Several of the teams that they beat were highly rated for this area. Since most of their members will be back next year, that season should also be good.

Winter and Spring track make the longest lasting sport on the Kecoughtan reservation. Practice starts in October or November and lasts until May. A person must be very dedicated or very stubborn to stick to a pace like that. You may think that very few people would go out for a sport that is so demanding, but many loyal Warriors do.

The members of the track team have made great individual performance advances this year. All but five previous school records have been broken. It is true that the Warrior track men beat only York in dual meets but season scores can be deceiving. All other dual meets were very close. One of the most exciting meets of the season was with Hampton High. The Warrior trackmen led Hampton up to the very last. Then Hampton took three fast first places to take the lead and the meet.

Golf

The Golf team had one enviable accomplishment this year. They proved to the Warriors once and for all that Hampton could be beaten! It was proven quite spectacularly by beating them with a score of 7 to 5. We hope that with this win the ice will have been broken to make way for victories over Hampton in other sports.

Baseball coach Homer Cuddy attributes the team's losing season to lack of experience. But experience has to be gained, so wait until next year! Since the majority of this year's players are juniors we should have a stronger, more experienced team next year. "Look at Ferguson", says Coach Cuddy, "they were very strong last year but only finished fourth this year."

Girls' Athletic Association

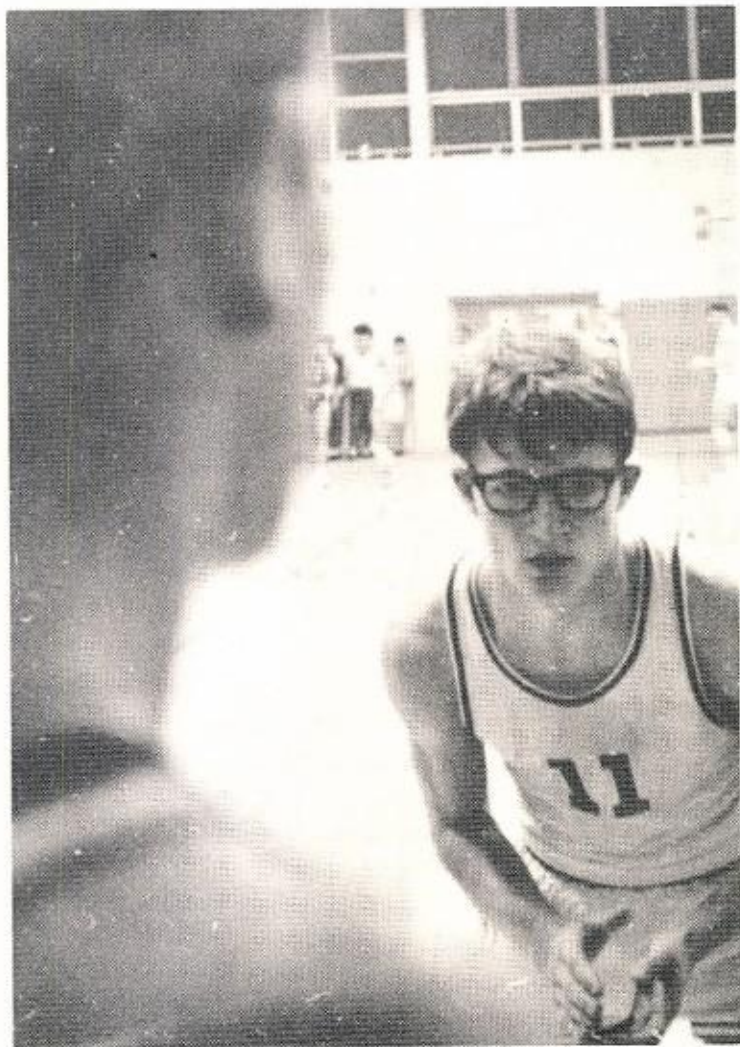

As you can see even during a football game girls will be girls. It looks like Martha may punch Janice for pulling her hair.

The Girls' Athletic Association is an organization designed to promote an interest in athletic competition for girls. During the year, their activities involved a football game, basketball, volleyball and field hockey. These games were played in the afternoons. The GAA will grow in membership and activities in the coming years.

Features

Generally associated with student life are the activities of the school other than those centered in the classroom. Students take part in all phases of school activity; from unpacking and counting books to organizing and putting on assemblies.

The pictures presented in this section reflect the many activities of the students and faculty throughout the school year. The major highlights of the year are included; assemblies, pep rallies, plays, and the coronation of the sports queens. All dances are included, the most memorable being the Junior Ring Dance and the Senior Prom. Student winners of scholastic and civic awards on the local and state level are featured as a part of the Student Life record. Installation ceremonies of the honor societies, SCA, and class officers are also a part of Student Life. The greatest emphasis is placed on the final activities of the senior class as they bring to a close their high school years. The seniors of '64-'65 are the first graduating class of Kecoughtan High School. Graduation is the happiest, saddest, and most important feature of the 1965 year.

Several precedents have been established at Kecoughtan High School this year. The Warriors needed an appropriate mascot so Allowt Sachem, "Mighty Chief", was acquired. To encourage student enthusiasm and applause at games the "Spirit Jug" was devised. This coveted award arouses a competitive spirit between the classes because it is presented temporarily to the class which makes the loudest noise at pep rallies.

All these, and many others, to stir your memories and to remind you of joyous occasions are here in the following pages.

Honors and Awards

Elaine Herren and Susan Hurst display their Arian medals presented by the Music Department.

Mrs. Moore reviews test scores with National Merit Scholarship Finalists, Martin Schlesinger and Don Prusaitis.

The administration, faculty, student body and TOMA-HAWK Staff commend the Seniors pictured on this page for their outstanding accomplishments during 1965. In addition to high scholastic averages these students have excelled in extra-curricular activities. They have not only achieved honor for themselves, but also have built prestige for Kecoughtan High School.

Sam Zeldner and Barbara Rasmussen won the district Youth Leadership Awards, sponsored by the Elks Club. Sam went on to win the state award in this category.

Terry Close and Kenny Besecker are the proud recipients of Citizenship Awards, sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Boys' and Girls' State Delegates

Among the coveted honors which may be earned by junior students at Kecoughtan High School is selection as delegates to Boys' and Girls' State. These sessions are held during the summer under the sponsorship of the American Legion. The activities at these meetings are based on programs to teach "Democracy in Action". Boys' State is held at the College of William and Mary and Girls' State is held at Radford College. Kecoughtan sent ten students to the 1964 session and plans to send thirteen to the 1965 session. The delegates are selected on faculty recommendation. Scholarship standing, service to the school and community, and leadership qualities are among the qualifications considered in choosing members of these groups.

Student Assemblies

Big Chiefs Karen Rountree, Sam Zeldner, Kenny Besecker, and Jackie Schappell describe student life in the Welcoming Assembly.

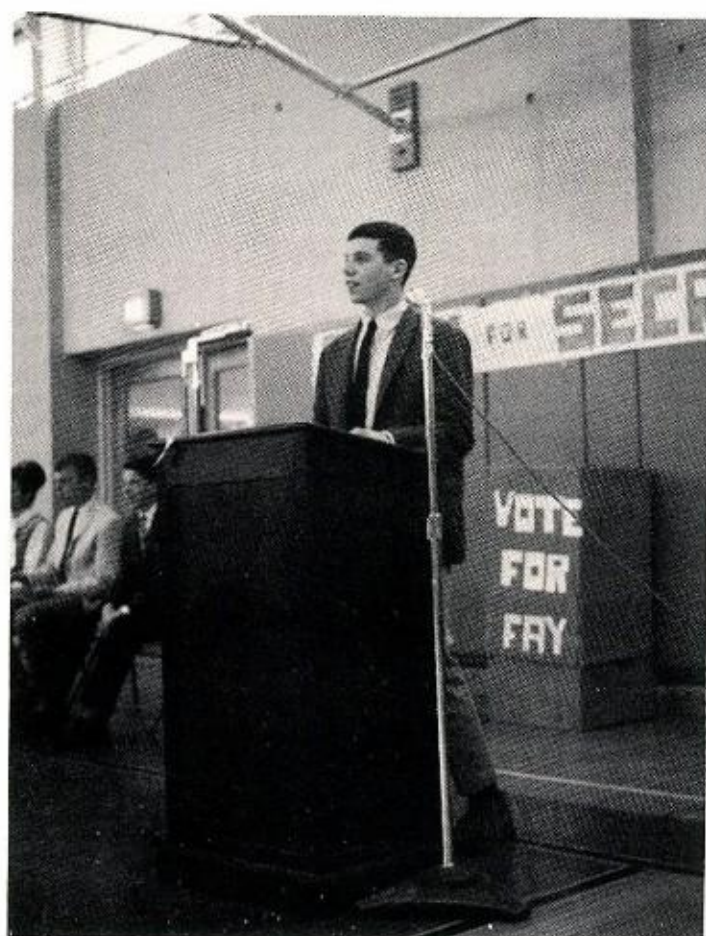

General Illig speaks on Americanism at the dedication of the Freedom Shrine.

A variety of assemblies, both informative and entertaining, were presented in Warriorland this year. The Southern Assembly Association, the respective classes, and the SCA were the sponsors of these convocations.

The Welcoming Assembly provided new students with an opportunity to acquaint themselves with school policies, the administration, and the student leaders of KHS.

Several guest speakers have presented programs throughout the year. Representatives from American Legion Posts have awarded athletic trophies at the sports assemblies. Crime Prevention Week brought Commonwealth Attorney Richardson to Kecoughtan High to discuss conditions of juvenile crime and the responsibilities of teenagers in preventing it. The dedication of the Freedom Shrine, by the Exchange Club, provided the most significant speaker of the year, General Illig of Fort Monroe, who stressed the importance of liberty and democracy and pointed out the threat of Communism.

Sam Zeldner performs one of his many duties as S.C.A. president.

Acrobatic routines are proved to be a vital part of physical fitness in an assembly sponsored by the Southern Assembly Association.

Mock Election

Students register before election day.

On national election day, November 3rd, the Kecoughtan Warriors staged a mock election. Campaign parties were organized for both candidates, Lyndon B. Johnson and Barry M. Goldwater. Campaign posters, buttons, and speeches were the order of the day.

This election was conducted in the same manner as the national election. Students were required to register before the voting day. Balloting took place after the student heads of the respective parties presented their platforms.

The tallying of the votes revealed that the student body favored Lyndon B. Johnson by a large margin.

Goldwater supporters consider campaigning a serious business.

Johnson supporters enthusiastically promote their candidate.

Tribal Pep Rallies

Coaches Green and Cuddy are equipped for their jump off the Grandview Pier.

Dean "Crazyfeather" Jernigan displays true warrior spirit.

Go, Warriors, go! This was the cry at the tribal pep rallies this year. All was quiet on the reservation until pep assemblies were scheduled. The effect of the rallies was dynamic. The bleachers overflowed with Warriors who echoed the cheers led by the cheerleaders. The Dance and Drum Committee of the Pep Club under the leadership of Dean "Crazyfeather" Jernigan brought "color" and atmosphere to rallies. "Hail to the Warriors" was sung while the band played and the majorettes performed.

During football season, our now traditional "Spirit Jug" was in the possession of the senior class for the most part. The enthusiasm and interest of the KHS student body could be interpreted only as genuine school spirit.

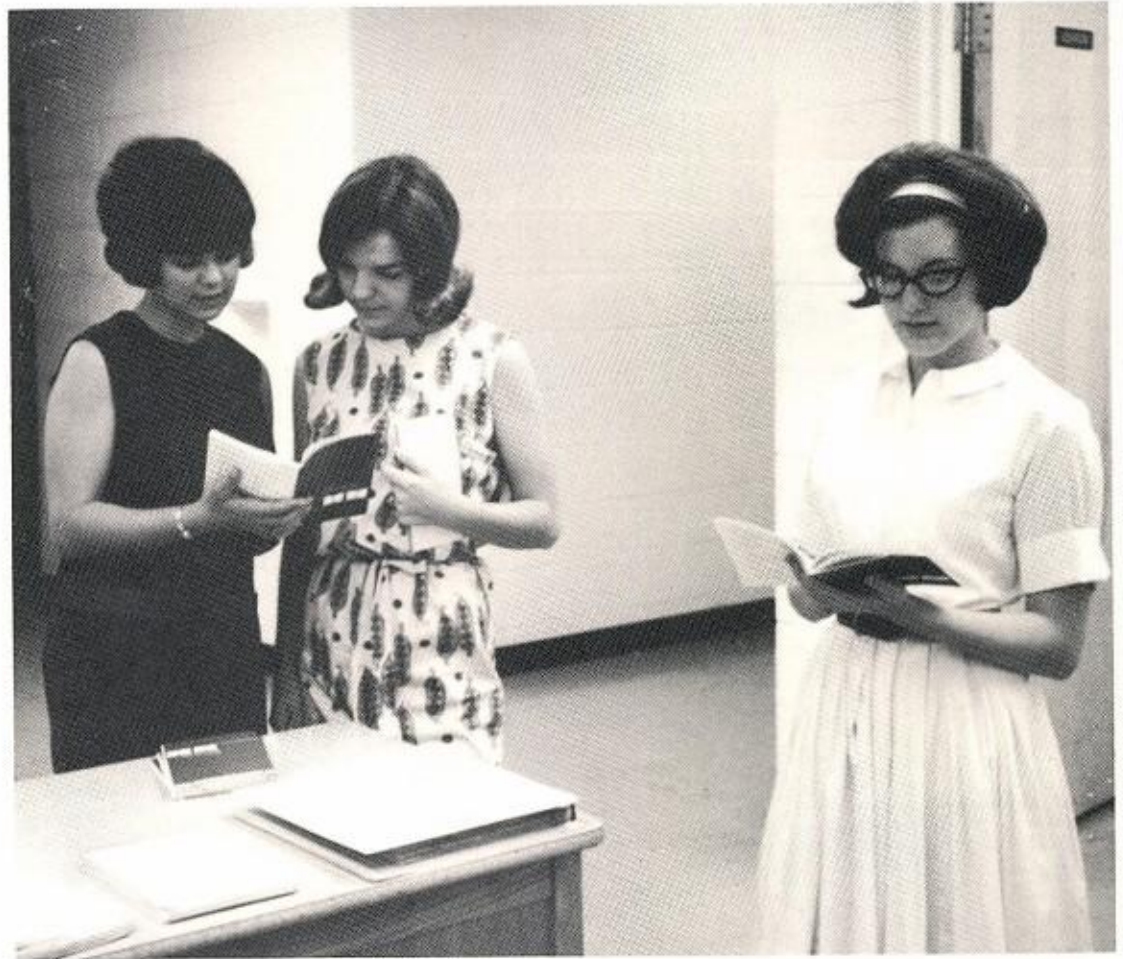

Head Cheerleader Karen Rountree, predicts the outcome of a Newport News—Kecoughtan basketball game as the "Lone Warrior" plans to attack.

Testing Programs

"Bring scratch paper and sharpened pencils", was commonly heard by the students who were to take tests. Student brain power was put to work during the testing programs. There were several tests given at KHS. At the beginning of the new school year the SCAT and STEP tests were given. The PSAT, a preparatory version of the College Board Exams, was taken by students who wanted to familiarize themselves with such an exam. National Merit Tests were administered to students who competed for scholarships.

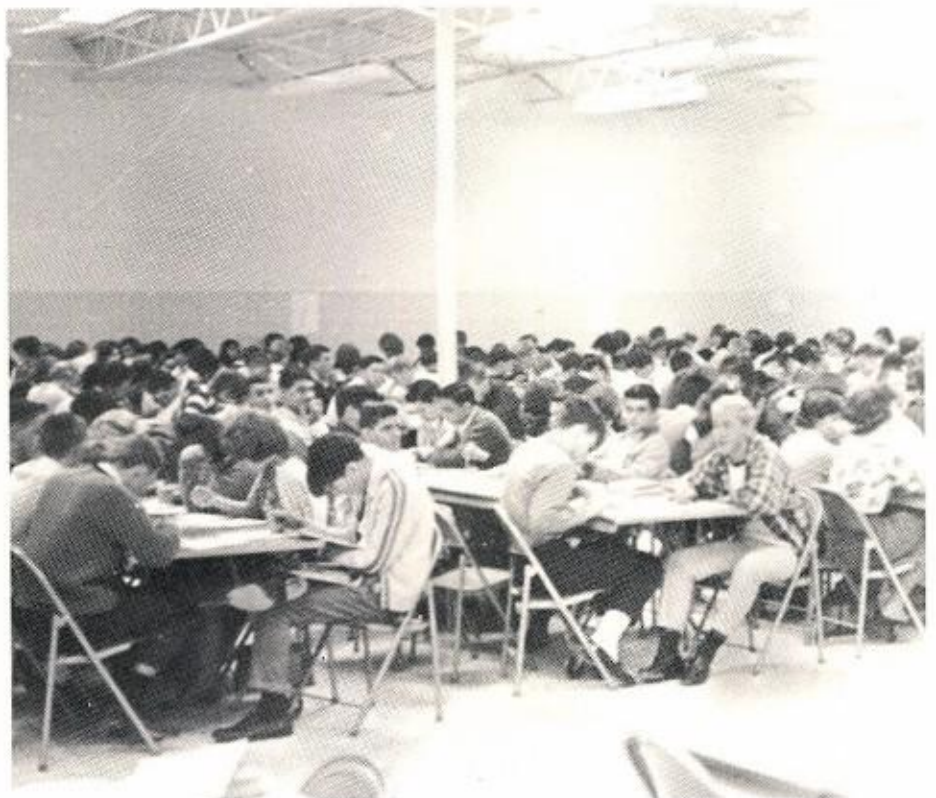

Mrs. Ennis and Mrs. Moore, KHS guidance counselors, conducted the tests. All tests were administered either in the school cafeteria or in the school library.

Linda Ollie explains the results of the College Board Exams to Betty Anderson and Diane Charlton.

Is their job getting to them?

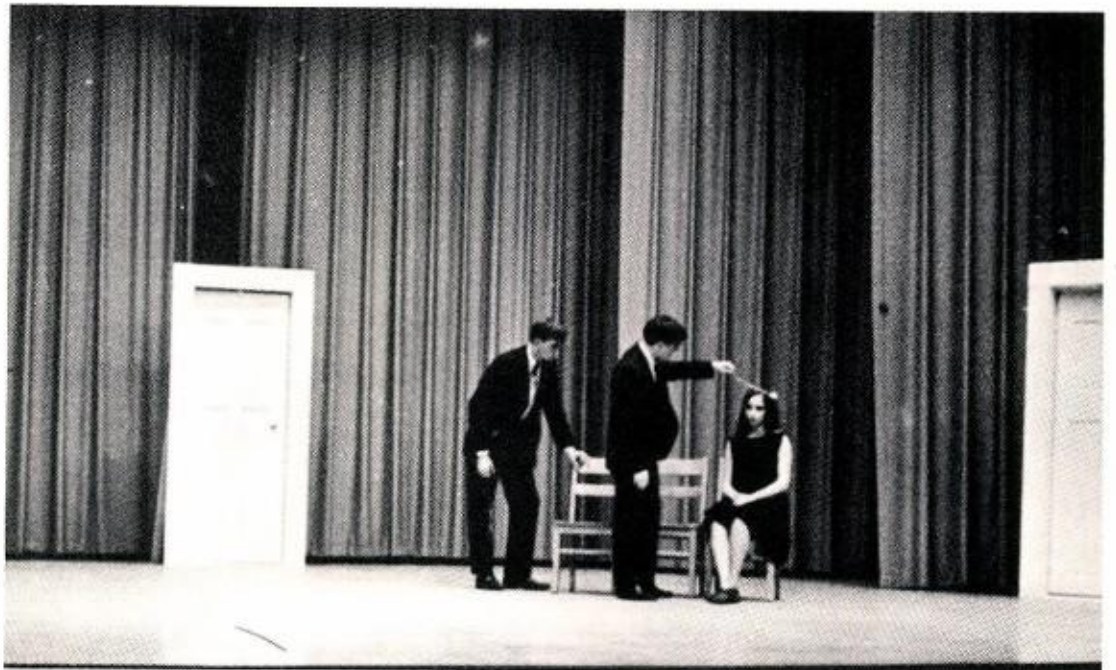

The cafeteria is the place for STEP & SCAT tests to be administered to the entire Junior class.

Plays

Debbie Martin and Jill Murray portray a dramatic scene in "To Keep A Promise".

Bob Henderson, playing the male lead, hypnotizes JoAnn Goetkin in "Facade".

There were feelings of uneasiness and many cases of butterflies experienced by the student actors who expressed the age old theme, "The show must go on!"

"Break a leg" (or in layman's language, Good Luck) were the last words uttered before the curtain rose.

The Drama Club season opened with the production "One Foot in Heaven". In February, three one-act, student-written and student-directed plays were staged. They were; "To Keep A Promise", by Donna Barnes, "Facade", by Martin Schlesinger, and "Cindy", by Darla Haughwout.

The Drama productions served as a means of entertainment and an opportunity for interested students to perfect their acting ability.

Grease paint and lipstick are necessary ingredients for stage make-up.

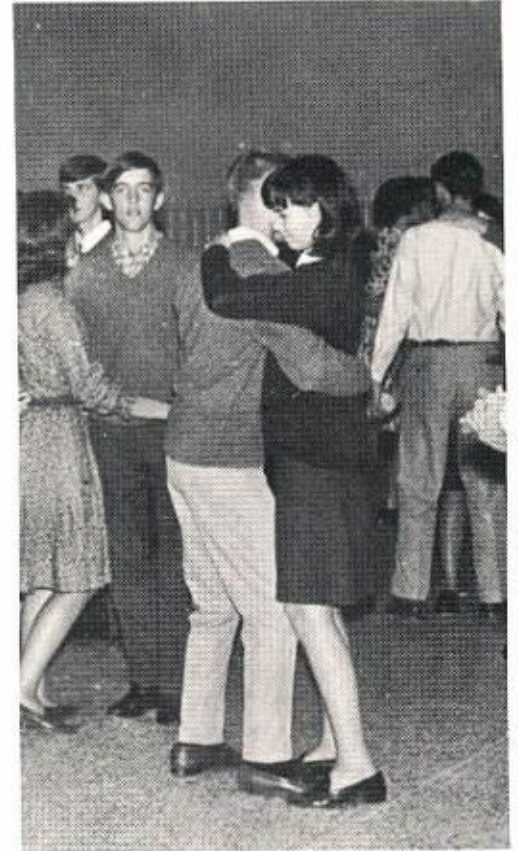

The student actors in "Cindy" take their final bow at the curtain call.

Dances

Students dance to the music provided by "The Flames".

"Jerk, Swim, Dog, Bird, Freddy, Clam"—No, you are not in a barnyard convention! You are attending a KHS dance. These were some of the popular dances during the school year.

To relieve the tensions posed by book reports, term papers, and other assignments the student body of KHS, in agreement with the administration and SCA, adopted a program of monthly dances. The dances were held in the cafeteria and served as a vital part of student life.

At each dance a local combo supplied live music; the two most favored groups were the Stompers and the Mustangs. Jackie Schappell, head of the SCA Dance Committee, was responsible for arrangements for each dance.

The dances proved to be of financial benefit to various school organizations. Choir robes were purchased with these funds, the newspaper benefitted, and the SCA treasury was increased.

"The Mustangs" provide the music at a casual dance sponsored by the A' Cappella Choir.

Holiday Activities

Carrying out a religious theme, Mr. Meadows' homeroom door won an honorable mention.

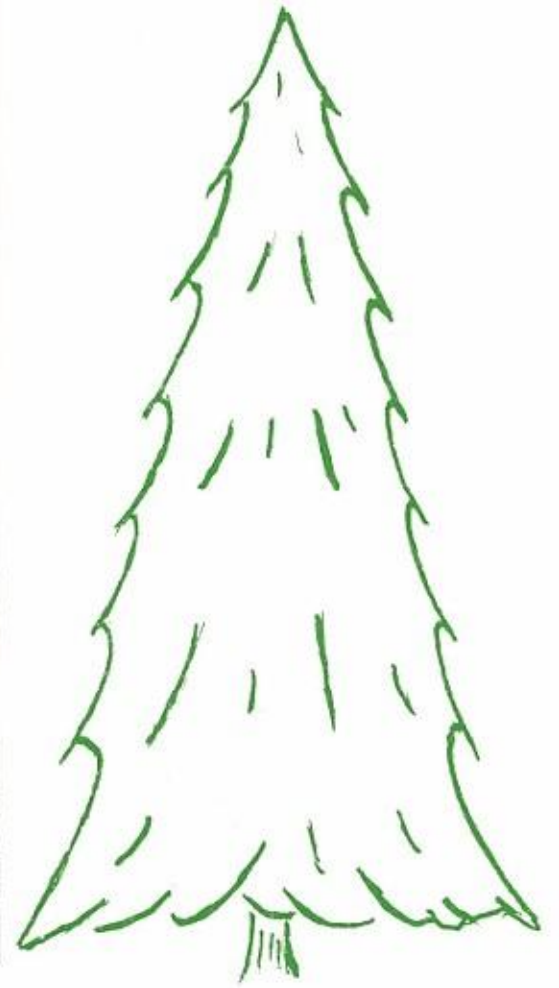

"Deck the doors with boughs of holly!" At this joyous time the Christmas spirit caught on at KHS with the annual decoration of homeroom doors sponsored by the Y-Teens. Judging was on the basis of most original, most religious, and most beautifully decorated.

In this appropriate season the student body directed their thoughts toward helping others. The SCA sponsored a canned foods drive with the benefits going to the Salvation Army. To encourage participation, the "Spirit Jug" was offered as a reward to the class contributing the most cans. The sophomores took possession of the "Jug" with their outstanding contribution to the drive.

Captain Adrian Jones of the Salvation Army expresses his appreciation to the students of KHS for their efforts in the canned foods drive.

Mistletoe and Holly Ball

The Chamberlin Roof Garden rocked with the lively music of the "Stompers".

Holly, mistletoe, elfin Christmas figures, and gaily decorated packages formed the background for the first Mistletoe and Holly Ball. The ball, sponsored by the Key Club, is to become an annual event.

The dance was held on December 22 at the Hotel Chamberlin Roof Garden. This gala event proved to be a break from school studies and the beginning of a festive holiday season.

Bob Richardson, George Johnson, and Steve Sykes had charge of the general arrangements. The members of the decorations committee were Mike Walsh, Don Polifka, and George Johnson. Mr. Mike Riddick, sponsor of the Key Club, supervised all the arrangements. Members of the faculty served as chaperons.

As the pace slackens and the dance nears its end, students enjoy the slow, dreamy music.

Football Queen and Court

1964 Football Queen, Marilee Teich.

The Queen's Attendants, Terry Close, Faye Teich, and Sally Hurlbut.

While the band was in marching formation, the majorettes performing a routine, and the cheerleaders guiding the student body in the pre-game cheers, the 1964 football Queen and attendants were presented.

Football Queen Marilee Teich, escorted by Tandy Brown, was crowned by Captain Ray Hill. The queen's attendants were Terry Close of the Senior class escorted by Stewart Johnson, Sally Hurlbut of the Junior class escorted by Bobby Heath, and Faye Teich of the Sophomore class escorted by John Brown.

The members of the football team saluted their queen and her court by standing in formation on the field while the ceremonies were in progress. A "seat of honor" was arranged by the Special Events Committee for the queen and court. The evening was climaxed by a 61-6 victory over the Poquoson Islanders.

Basketball Queen and Court

The Queen's Attendants, Sandra Vaughn, Karen Rountree, and Mary Joyce Knowles.

Basketball season drew near its end with the crowning of the 1965 Basketball Queen and the presentation of her court. Lila Soler reigned as Basketball Queen and was escorted by Sam Zeldener. The court included Karen Rountree of the Senior class, Sandra Vaughn of the Junior Class, and Mary Joyce Knowles of the Sophomore class. Queen Lila and her court were presented in the half-time activities of the Kecoughtan-York game. The Valentine Sweetheart Dance, following the game, was the setting for the coronation of the queen. Dean McDonald, captain of the team, crowned her and presented her with a bouquet of red roses.

The Basketball Queen and her court preside over the festivities of the Sweetheart Dance.

Student Elections

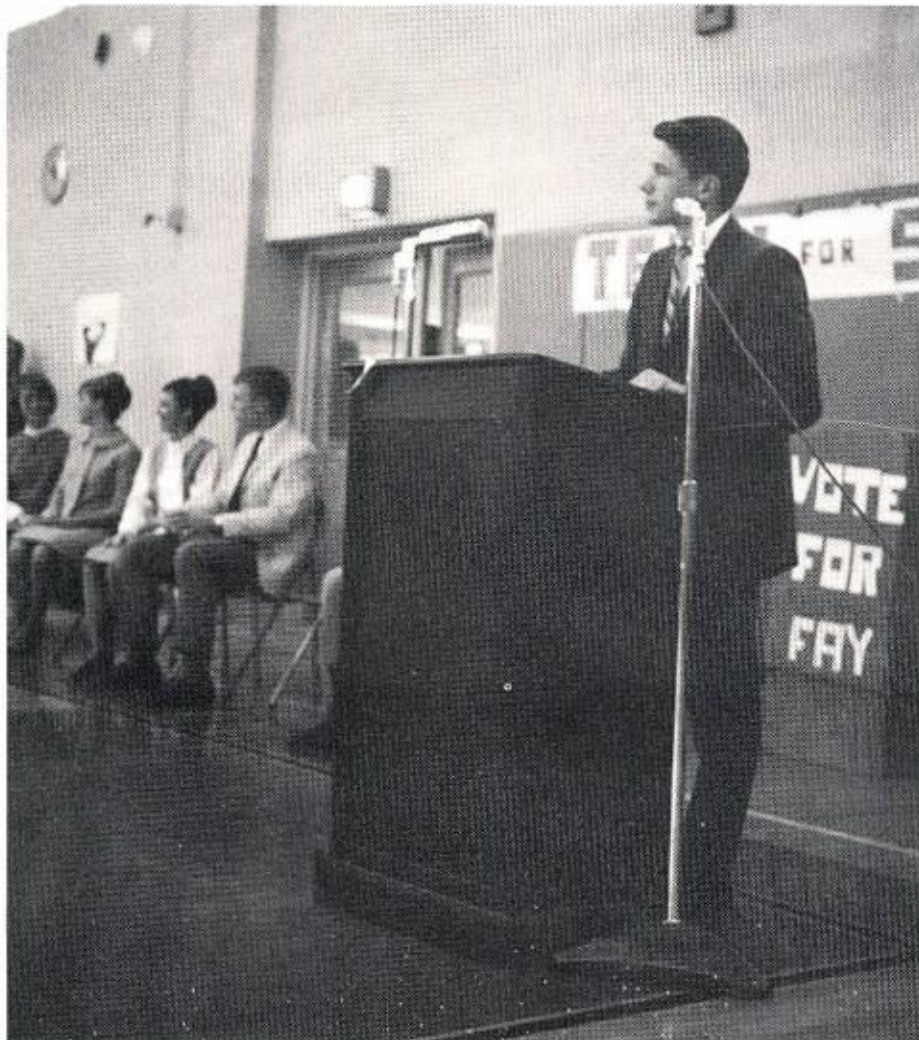

Students cast votes for their candidates.

As one walked down the KHS halls before the SCA elections the walls were no longer bare. A variety of colorful campaign posters, each boasting the merits of a candidate, were taped to the Warriorland walls. Every student wore at least one campaign button, but most people sported an entire collection. Students wishing to run for class offices were required to submit their names to the main office for screening.

The nominees for the SCA offices were given the opportunity to make campaign speeches to the entire student body. For class elections the speeches were heard at a class assembly. These speeches were accompanied by avid followers carrying banners conveying the whirl of excitement of the student voters. The preliminary and final elections were held in the homerooms.

Beverly Bendos and her committee, sponsored by the SCA, tallied the results of all school-wide elections.

John Curtis' speech wins him a decisive number of votes.

Installations and Inductions

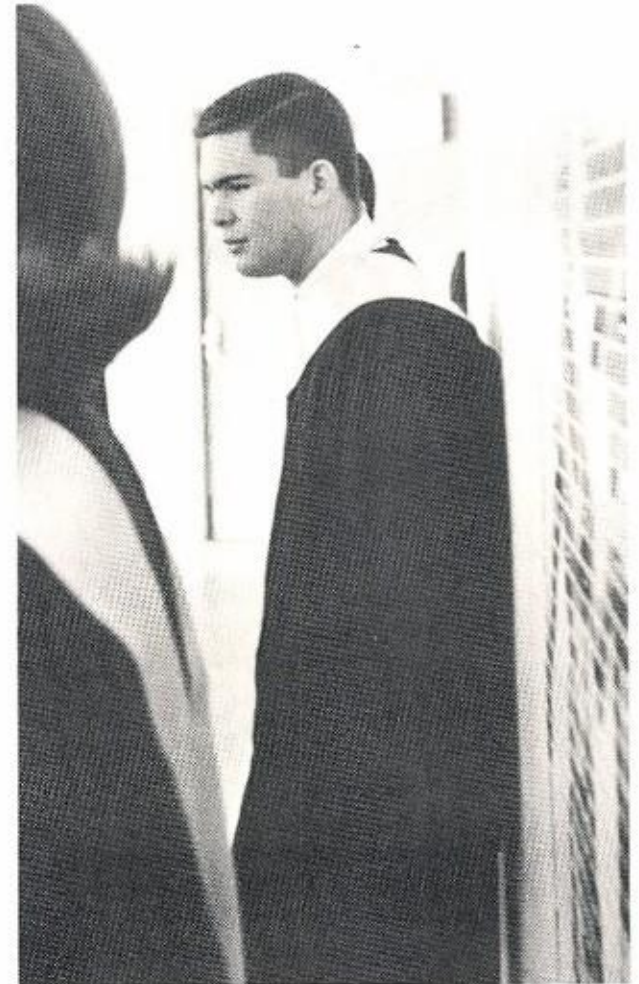

The newly inducted members of the National Honor Society begin their recessional.

The arrival of spring brought elections of class and SCA officers, and the necessity for installation ceremonies. The SCA officers were installed in an assembly for the entire student body. The in-coming officers are John Curtis, president; Bobby Julian, vice-president; Sally Hurlbut, secretary; Nan Gardner, treasurer; and Beth Johnson, Chaplain.

At this season the honor societies inducted their new members. There were eighteen inductees into the National Honor Society. The formal inductational ceremonies were held in an assembly program. Mayor Ann Kilgore, an honorary member of the Kecoughtan chapter, was present and made some awards. The Quill and Scroll, an honorary society for high school journalists, held informal induction ceremonies for eight students who were recognized for their contributions to school publications. Members of these two societies are selected on the basis of their academic abilities, extra-curricular activities, service, and leadership qualities.

An air of excitement prevailed in the Junior class on April 23 when they received their class rings at the formal Ring Dance.

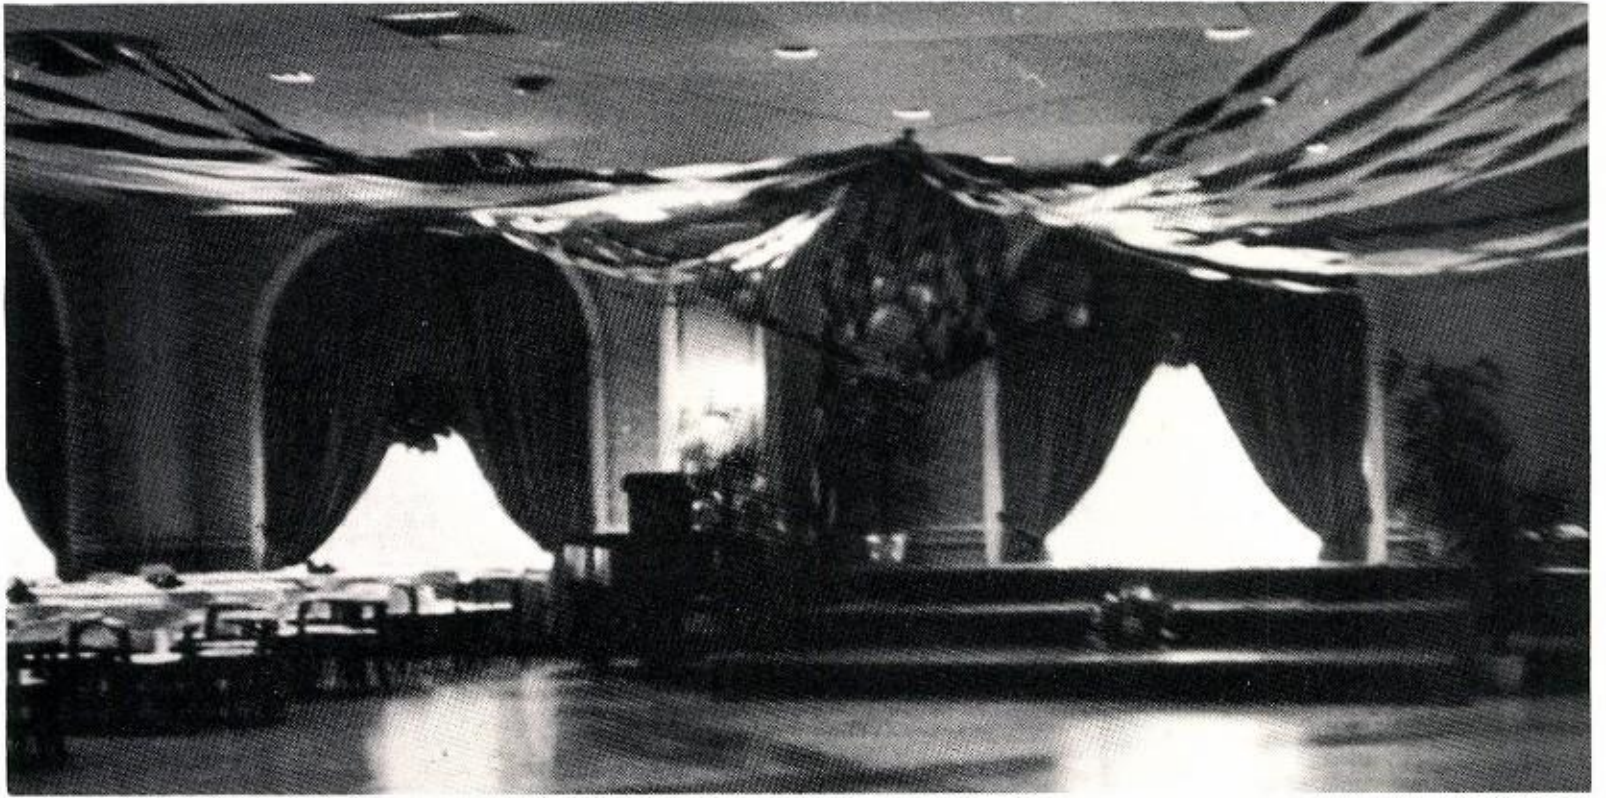

Upon arriving at the Chamberlin Hotel, the Juniors received their rings and then went into the Virginia Room into a setting of "April Love". This theme was conveyed through a combination of huge golden sunbursts created with magnolia leaves and gold paint; a chandelier added a perfect center of interest to the room, and to a total color scheme of green, white, and gold. The Decorations Committee, headed by Doug Price, had worked diligently and the results were dynamic. A background of green and white was provided so that a professional photographer could take pictures of the students.

The general committee, headed by Beth Johnson, took care of the miscellaneous arrangements. They hired the Visions and the Visionaires to furnish the music for the dance. They made the plans for the refreshments to be set up in the adjoining Continental Room.

The Junior Ring Dance will be a long remembered event in the lives of the Class of '66.

Janice Brimberry and Lance Witliff look forward to a special evening.

1965 Senior Prom

A lonely ballroom awaits the arrival of prom-goers.

The netting provided a true sea atmosphere.

Decorating takes much patience.

"First the tide rushes in..." were the strains that inaugurated the first Senior Prom of KHS, "Ebb Tide". The Virginia Room of the Hotel Chamberlin was converted into the ballroom of the S.S. Ebb Tide. Entering on a red-carpeted gang plank, on the night of May 7, the seniors found themselves in an atmosphere that Neptune himself would have praised. The walls were draped with nets filled with a variety of sea treasures and the tables were decorated with candles, silver sea shells, and blue netting. In an adjoining room a backdrop picturing the ship's deck, a glittering moon, and the sea was created for pictures to be taken.

Reigning as Kecoughtan's first Senior Prom Queen was Joan Pervier, escorted by Howard Thomas. Her attendants were Beverly Bensos, escorted by George Anderson, Terry Close, escorted by Jeff Harrison, Colleen Downey, escorted by Don Cowles, and Barbara Rasmussen, escorted by Ray Hill.

"The Cruisers" provided popular and older music for the enjoyment of everyone present. The numerous arrangements for the Prom, other than hiring a band, were under the direction of the Prom Committee Chairman, Anne Alford. The work of this committee, with the invaluable supervision of Mrs. Latham and Mrs. Cooke, resulted in an enchanting Prom and a memorable evening for the Seniors.

Class Night and Class Play

Senior Class president, Ray Hill, presents a portrait of Mr. Szetela to John Curtis, 1965-66 SCA president.

Class Night, 1965, provided memories as the Senior class of KHS recalled the happenings of their years of high school life. Through a theme of the Past, Present, and Future, the seniors traced their steps from sophomores at Hampton High School to Kecoughtan High School, and then delved into the mysteries of the future. In folk songs, skits, and narration, the History of the Class of '65 was reviewed. The Class Prophecy was staged through the planning of a reunion in 1975. The Hall of Fame was officially presented as they walked through a blue and white draped picture frame. The Last Will and Testament was published in the Senior issue of Tribal Tales, and this issue also contained a resumé of all senior activities.

The other events of the evening included the reading of the Class Poem by the poet, Elise Kollman, and the presentation of the gifts by the Giftorian, Liz Sansone. A portable lecturn and a portrait of Mr. Szetela were presented to the school, and the Senior Class Play costumes were presented to the Drama Department. The Class Night Program was dedicated to the late Mr. Alex Mendelson, a teacher and friend of all at Kecoughtan High School.

Bruce Edmonds once again dons his "Whistler" outfit for a class night skit to bring back memories of the senior sponsored variety show.

"Pride and Prejudice" adapted from Jane Austen's novel stole its way into the hearts of all who attended the Senior Class Play. In an 1860's setting the play proved to be quite a showpiece. The female cast members wore long, hooped skirts and the male members also wore costumes suitable to the times. The director was Mr. Johnny Meadows and the student chairman was Bettijoyce Breen. Seniors sold tickets in order to finance the rental of their caps and gowns.

Preliminaries

Before practice began chairs were set up and the administration discussed final plans.

After the processional Mr. Szetela reviewed the final instructions concerning Seniors receiving diplomas and recessing to their chairs.

After a practice in the gym the students' names were checked a final time and they were given their rain tickets.

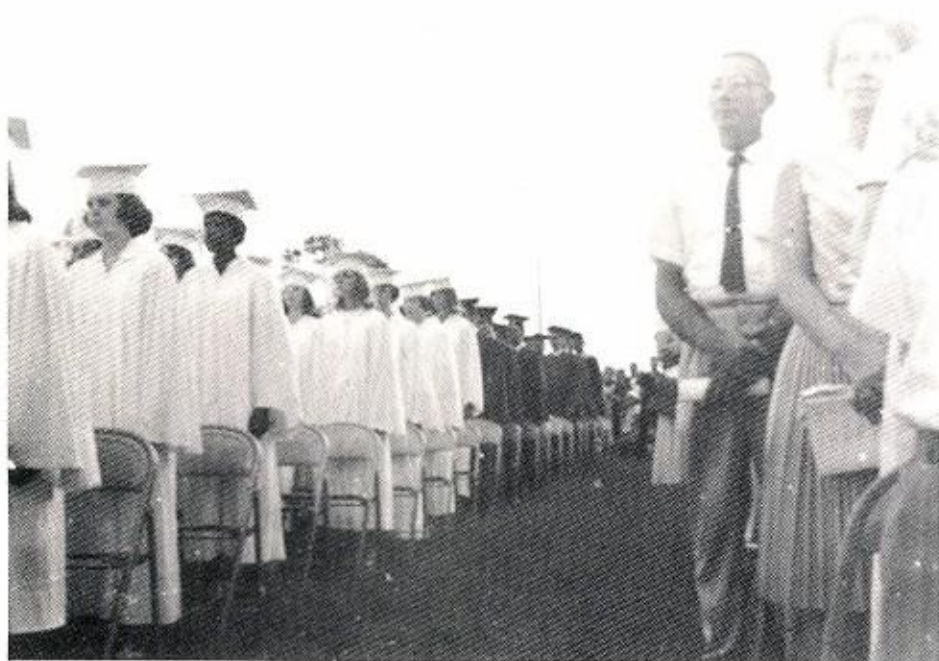

Graduation '65

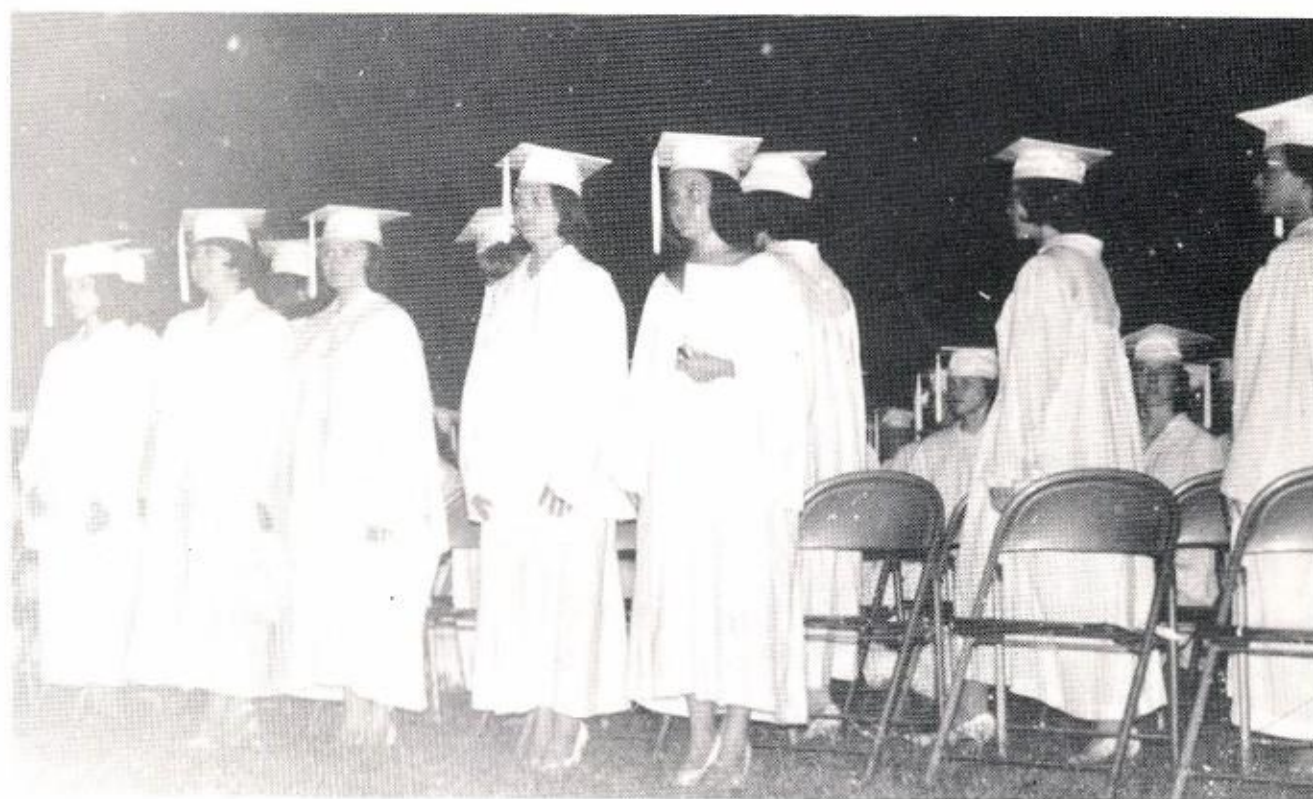

"Whee! just fifteen minutes to go."

The teachers rise for the processional.

The graduates and their parents stand for the invocation.

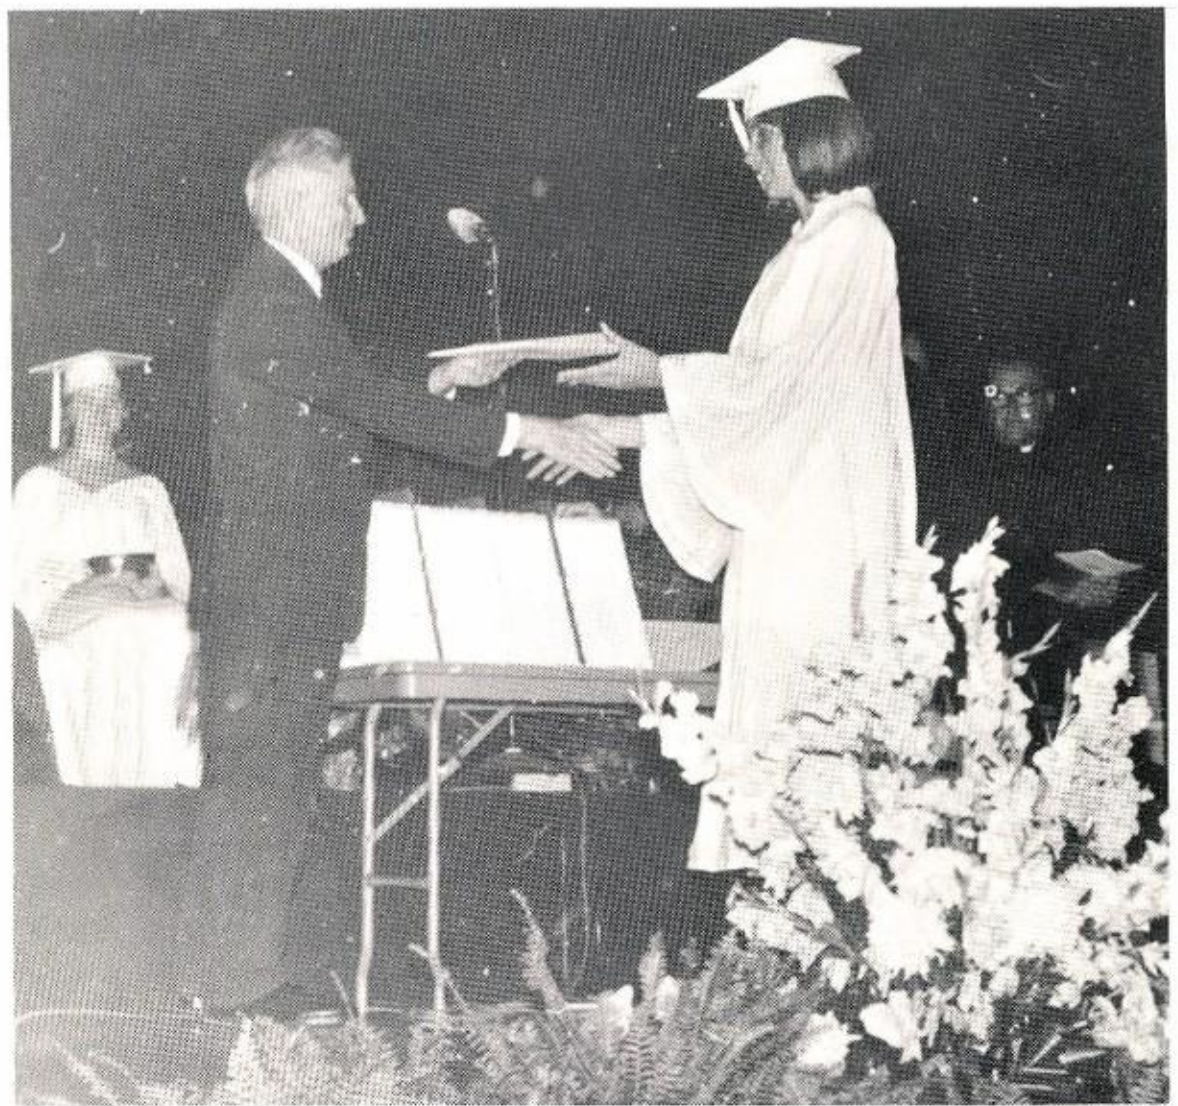

The first row of graduates reflect solemnity and joy.

The Commencement exercises of the first graduation class of Kecoughtan High School were held on June 10 in the evening. School Superintendent C. Alton Lindsay presented diplomas to four hundred seniors. Principal Edward Szetela presented the senior award to Samuel M. Zeldner. Raymond D. Hill delivered the valedictory and Bettijoyce Breen delivered the salutatory address. Class vice-president David E. Hargrove also spoke. The school band played the processional and the recessional for the graduation exercises.

The year of 1965 brought to a close a chapter in the lives of the graduating seniors. Each student leaves his school years behind him either to serve his community or to further his education. Good Luck to the Seniors!

To publish a yearbook takes thoughtful planning for beauty of design and economy of production. It takes rigidity of purpose to stay within a given budget and flexibility to make changes in stride. It takes constant watch for all the loose ends that cannot be avoided.

It takes imagination, careful proof reading, and constant attention to all details. It takes complete follow through from the first rough dummy to the final book, and most important, it takes teamwork.

During the past year, the staff has attempted to make this yearbook as complete and thorough a biography of the graduating class as possible. The accomplishment of this mission has been largely due to the cooperation and active support of our loyal advertisers. Without them, the 1965 TOMAHAWK would not have been a reality.

To you, we recommend the firms represented in the following pages. They are friends in Hampton; friends of Kecoughtan High School; your friends.

Glance often through this section and greet these old acquaintances. The firms listed in the following pages are business organizations who have a vital interest in Kecoughtan. In June '65 business and college careers opened their doors for many ambitious seniors. The time they spent in Kecoughtan created a legacy of precedents and guides for years to come.

Seniors leave, grateful that they were able to lay the general foundation for Kecoughtan and honored by being its first graduation class. Juniors impatiently await the coming year realizing they will be the first class to have completed three years at KHS. Close behind are the sophomores who have stepped up another year in their high school career.

The class of '65, and the TOMAHAWK staff, wishes our successors the best of luck in the future.

Kecoughtan

Parent-Teacher Association

A school needs loyal and enthusiastic support from others than the students and faculty members. Such supporters, when capably organized and directed, contribute a great deal to the morale and welfare of the school. The Kecoughtan Parent-Teacher Association for the year 1964-1965 was the organization which gave so much to the school and its personnel.

The year's program of the Parent-Teacher Association was organized around four meetings at regular intervals. Several projects, for fund-raising and other purposes, were planned and carried out in addition to the regular meetings. From these meetings and projects the school and its personnel benefited.

October saw the first regular meeting of the Kecoughtan Parent-Teacher Association in the form of "Back-to-School" night. The largest attendance of any meeting was noted at this time. It was at this meeting that the parents and teachers became acquainted, many for the first time, and subsequent meetings saw these new acquaintanceships ripen into true friendships.

The band and choral concerts in the fall and winter received the active support of the Parent-Teacher Association. The December choral concert was considered to be a regular meeting. Often this is attended only by students, the faculty and a few parents, but this year the attendance was unusually good and the audience was most appreciative of the fine program.

Other programs during the year gave the parents and faculty insight into and information about the many testing programs the students take. The legislative program of the Parent-Teacher Association was explained and discussed at one meeting. The final meeting of the year was devoted to the installation of next year's officers, and to a speaker. Mr. James Windsor, administrative assistant at Christopher Newport College, was the speaker. He gave a most stimulating and information-packed talk about student aims, achievements, and abilities.

For this year, a social hour after the meetings was held frequently. The refreshments were much enjoyed by the members, and these opportunities for enlarging friendships between faculty members and parents were valuable. Fellowship and informal exchange of questions, answers, and comments at the social time of the meetings proved to be a most rewarding part of the program.

In addition to providing stimulating programs at regular meetings, the Kecoughtan Parent-Teacher Association contributed much to the school and its membership through projects. Money was raised by various means and used for books for the school library, band uniforms, choral robes, and equipment for the clinic. The members of the PTA took it upon themselves to staff the clinic rooms daily in the absence of a full-time nurse. Many hours of such work were willingly contributed by these volunteers, and their efforts were deeply appreciated. One of these members, Mrs. Alford, serves as sponsor of the school chapter of FNA in addition to serving voluntarily in the clinic.

The Kecoughtan Parent-Teacher Association, through the leadership of Mrs. Jefferson Harrison, president; Mrs. Raymond Hill, vice-president; Mr. Vernon Holloman, Sr., treasurer; Mrs. Richard Read, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Vernon Saunders, recording secretary; and Mrs. Mark Alford, historian, had a most successful year in 1964-65. Plans for the year of 1965-66 are in the preliminary stages. It is believed that the recently installed officers: Mrs. Vernon Saunders, president; Col. James Osgard, vice-president; Mrs. Roy Stutts, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Phillip Lanning, recording secretary; Lt. Col. Joseph De Santis, treasurer; and Mrs. Vernard Lockwood, historian, will lead the 1965-66 Kecoughtan Parent-Teacher Association in a year that will be rewarding for the school, the faculty, and all members of the Association.
